Maine Election Result Gives Republicans One Majority In Senate

Means Republicans Will Be Able To Organize Next Senate

Only Paper Majority, However, Because Of Many Insurgents

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Election of Arthur R. Gould as Republican senator from Maine means that the Republican party will be able to organize the Senate of the 70th Congress by the narrow margin of a single vote.

Actually, however, the Republican victory in Maine means very little if anything, insofar as actual or working control of the next Senate is concerned.

The line-up stands today:

Republicans—48.
Democrats—47.
Farmer-Labor—1.

Actual control, if any, rests with the Democrats than with the Republicans, despite the figures, for included in the Republican total of 48 are fully a dozen senators who as often vote with the Democrats as against them. There are perhaps half a dozen who vote oftener against the administration than with it. This is particularly true in any legislation that by any stretch of imagination may be termed "progressive".

La Follette and Blaine in Wisconsin, Frazier and Nye in North Dakota, Norris and Howell in Nebraska, Johnson in California, Norbeck and McMaster in South Dakota, Borah in Idaho, Couzens in Michigan—they are impervious and contemptuous of party discipline and the party whip. They vote with the Republicans on organization matters, but on legislation they are independent.

Paper Control

Thus it cannot be said that the Republicans have more than a paper control of the next Senate. The Democrats, in fact, are more fortunately situated, for they have more party solidarity than their opponents. There are a few Democratic independents like Bruce of Mary-

Queen Marie Reaches France

Arrives At Cherbourg This Morning—Goes To Paris

URGED TO RETURN TO HOME AT ONCE

(International News Service)

CHERBOURG, Nov. 30.—Queen Marie of Roumania arrived in the harbor, on board the S. S. Berengaria, at 11 o'clock today. A special tender was sent out to take the queen and her party, and 200 pieces of baggage, to the quay where special facilities were offered to speed her journey to Paris.

The queen will arrive in Paris late this afternoon and is expected to see Prince Carol tomorrow.

General Angelesco of the Roumanian army, who was here to meet Queen Marie, admitted that he had talked with Prince Carol in Paris and had urged him not to return to Roumania.

"The king's health is not so good but it is not as serious as reported," said General Angelesco. "Nevertheless, I am going to urge her majesty not to stay long in Paris, but to return quickly to Bucharest. Her presence in Bucharest is not urgently required, but she has been gone a long time and they want her back as soon as possible."

Officer Of Poor District Now In Clark Building

Superintendent Of Welfare M. B. Hogue Investigates All Applications

OVER THIRTY NOW IN COUNTY HOME

Change From The Old System To New Has Entailed Large Amount Of Labor

M. B. Hogue, superintendent of welfare department for the county poor district, has established an office on the second floor of the Clark building, immediately east of the Harmony station, where all applications for relief are to be made.

Mr. Hogue will have charge of the entire city and county. He has on hands a set of blanks, covering two pages, containing questions which must be answered by those applying for relief, or by those who make application in behalf of indigent persons.

Require Many Facts.

The information regarding a case must give the full name, religion, sex, color, single or married, date of birth. If born outside of the United States, the time applicant has been a resident of the county. If less than a year, the previous residence. Profession or trade, physical and mental condition, and the circumstances of members of the applicant's family. Value of property, if any is owned, is also required. The application must also list the names of relatives to be notified in case of necessity and other questions.

The kind of help furnished will be commitment to the county poor farm, and outdoor relief. By the latter is meant relief furnished to poor people in their homes. After getting the data, Superintendent Hogue makes a personal investigation of each case to determine its merits and the amount of help necessary.

Mr. Hogue reports to the county commissioners who are the officers of the county poor district. All bills for relief must contain the "O. K." of Mr. Hogue before they are paid by the county commissioners.

Thirty in Home.

Up until the present time over 30 indigent persons have been committed to the county home. There are also a number who are receiving outside relief.

Changing from the old system under which the city, boroughs and townships took care of their poor separately, has entailed a large amount of work. Mr. Hogue has been kept on the jump ever since he assumed the duties of his office and is now getting the work well in hand.

Rex Patch Is Chairman Of Pageant Plans

Named As Local Head Of Christmas Event Here December 10

MANY MERCHANTS ARE CO-OPERATING

Federation Of Women's Clubs Actively In Charge Of Affair

Rex Patch, President of The Pennsylvania Wireless Company has been named General Chairman for the conducting of the Christmas Pageant to be held in New Castle on Friday, December 10, at which time Santa Claus will be in this city with his reindeer sleigh and accompanied by five Eskimos from the North Pole.

Mr. Patch is making arrangements for all of the Civic Clubs, Boy and Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and School children to participate in the parade.

The coming of Santa Claus to New Castle is being sponsored by the Federation of Women's Clubs, The New Castle News and a number of Merchants of the city. The purpose of his visit is to take orders for presents from the boys and girls for Christmas Eve delivery, when he will visit each and every home in the city and bring to the kiddies the things they ordered of him on the 10th. The Mothers and Fathers are earnestly requested to assist Santa by shopping early.

This Pageant has been held in such cities as Seattle, Wash., Cleveland and Toledo, O., Grand Rapids and Lansing, Mich., this being the first that Santa has visited New Castle in this way.

An invitation is extended to all of the boys and girls of Lawrence

Elks Make Plans For Christmas

Will Send Baskets Of Food To Needy And Give Children Treat

TO ERECT TREE AT ELKS' HOME

Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, New Castle lodge No. 69, will provide a royal treat for the kiddies and present baskets to 150 needy families this Christmas, according to plans mapped out last night by the Elks Christmas committee, of which George Lamoree is chairman and William Justice, secretary-treasurer.

Annually the Elks scatter cheer among the more unfortunate families of the city by presenting them with a basket containing such substantial foods as chicken, potatoes, bread, butter, peas, corn—and in fact everything that goes to make a Christmas dinner good.

The Elks themselves act as committees in finding who are the needy families and their names are presented to the Christmas committee which in turn the day before Christmas fills several big trucks and without pomp and ceremony do their best ot make persons happy on Christmas.

In addition to this a large Christmas tree will be erected at the Elks home. It will be placed in the lobby and decorated. The small girls and boys each will receive a toy and a large package or bag of candy and fruit. It is also probable that they will again witness a moving picture show, gratis, as members of the Elks who operate motion picture theatres always donate the showhouse and wholesome pictures to the Elks to entertain the "kiddies".

Large Crowd At Pittsburgh Fire

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—Thousands of thrill-seeking Pittsburghers crowded the downtown district here today to watch firemen battle a blaze in a three-story building in the "Golden Triangle," the commercial and financial center of the city.

Several fire companies made spectacular dashes through the crowded streets, leading to fantastic reports that various large buildings were afire.

The blaze, which was confined to the Bruno Bros. building, where it originated, did damage estimated at $7,000.

Town Devastated, Many Killed and Injured In Tornado

Ruins at Heber Springs, Ark., health resort town, hardest hit of many towns in tornadoes that swept through Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, taking a toll of 82 lives, and injuring hundreds of others. Heber Springs virtually was wiped off the map, only few houses standing after the storm's fury had been spent. Thirty Heber Springs citizens lost their lives and 150 were injured. The town is without light or water and the mayor has issued a proclamation forbidding fires for heating purposes and much suffering is being endured by the hundreds of homeless.

Fall Sought To Discharge Debt, Court Is Told

Son-In-Law Of Indicted Former Secretary Takes Witness Stand

CLEVELAND MAN ENTERS CASE

Fall Tried Unsuccessfully To Lift Debt To Doheny Before Probe

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Albert B. Fall, ex-secretary of the interior, endeavored unsuccessfully to discharge his $100,000 obligation to E. L. Doheny before the transaction became known to the Senate Investigating committee, it was testified today by Fall's son-in-law, C. C. Chase.

Chase, the first witness called today in the trial of his father-in-law and Doheny for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in oil leases, testified that in November of 1923 Fall endeavored to obtain a loan of $100,000 from Price McKinney of Cleveland, but without success.

Came During Probe

Fall's effort to exchange McKinney for Doheny as his creditor came at a time when the Senate committee on public lands was conducting a vigorous investigation into his private affairs, particularly with respect to the $100,000. It was within two months of this time that Doheny came forward—only after Fall had announced his beneficiary was E. B. McLean, wealthy publisher—and announced that he had made the loan.

Under questioning by Owen Roberts, government counsel, Chase testified that, under instructions from his father-in-law, he had gone to Cleveland to see McKinney.

Chase explained that McKinney had suggested he loan Fall $100,000 with which to retire the Doheny loan, and Fall wanted the Cleveland man to be reminded of that fact.

Chase gave no reason, however, for McKinney's failure to "come through." McKinney is now dead.

The Cleveland man, Chase further testified, had been approached by Fall in 1920 for the loan of $100,000.

Thousands Ready To Start Hunt For Deer On Wednesday

By F. I. GILLUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DU BOIS, Pa., Nov. 30.—Eight thousand deer hunters are expected to hunt tomorrow over the million-acre tract stretching from Du Bois to Driftwood and extending over parts of Clearfield, Elk and and Cameron counties. Smoke from the chimneys of four hundred hunting lodges that dot this hunters' paradise today told of the presence of 3,000 hunters, ready for the opening of what is expected to be the biggest deer hunting season on record.

Many Hunters Ready

Since the vanguard of nimrods came to this 40-mile valley on Sunday there has been a steady stream of hunters from distant points passing through here on their way to the chase. Thousands of local hunters will hurry out to their cabins tonight or early tomorrow to be on hand for the cross-tending or brush-beating.

That the deer is more plentiful for the coming season than at any time since the Pennsylvania buck law went into effect, is the concensus of game officials. Herds of eight to 10 head in one group have been seen frequently, and 20 head in a single group is no rarity.

Farmers have killed dozens of deer as obnoxious animals. They have become so plentiful that the state game commission ordered a special season of four days to follow immediately after the buck season, during which the slaughter of doe deers will be allowed in Clearfield county under certain regulations.

Deer Plentiful

This plentitude of deer, along with the fact that the newest buck regulation, requiring two points to each antler, has been in effect long enough to bring on an eligible crop of animals, leads experienced nimrods to believe the current season will be the biggest in history.

In such anticipation thousands of nimrods obtained license to hunt. In Clearfield county alone 12,000 licenses were issued. It is believed that 15,000 hunters will visit this region before the season closes.

Eight hundred deer were killed in this area last season and it was the prediction of the experts today that the kill this year will reach 1,000.

The regular state deer hunting season lasts until December 15. Each licensed hunter is entitled to shoot one male deer with proper horn requirements, which are the same as in effect last season.

Steamers Fight Way To Port In Frozen River

(International News Service)

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 30.—Twenty steamers today were fighting their way up the ice-clogged St. Marys river in hope of reaching ports safely.

Five inches of ice and a blinding snow held the ships in the lower part of the river yesterday. They were freed by tugs. One of the ships, the William K. Field, is being kept afloat by air compressors. She has a hole in her forepeak.

Youngstown Sharon Cars In Collision

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 30. — Seven persons were injured when two interurban trains operating between here and Sharon, Pa., collided head-on near here today.

Mrs. J. Miller, of Farrell, Pa., was reported as seriously injured.

Thomas Penman, Sharon, Pa., motorman on the incoming train, was badly cut and bruised. A score of others suffered bruises and were cut by flying glass.

Interurban officials said the block signals were working properly. They believe that one of the crews blundered in obeying orders. An investigation of the crash was ordered. All persons injured are expected to recover.

Claim Gale College Student Killed Sweetheart And Hid Body

(International News Service)

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Nov. 30.—Erdman Olson, 18-year-old Gale college student and son of a wealthy tobacco planter, was being sought today in connection with the mysterious disappearance of his 22-year-old sweetheart, Miss Clara Olson.

The case is one of the strangest in the history of Wisconsin. Although the body of Miss Olson has not been found, authorities are so sure the young woman has been slain that a warrant charging Young Olson with her murder has been issued.

Miss Olson, daughter of a farmer, disappeared three months ago. She DETROIT, Nov. 30.—Prohibition enforcement is not successful, James R. Davis, assistant federal prohibition administrator in Ohio and Michigan declared today in announcing his resignation.

Davis is leaving the service because of his health.

It was he who established the rum navy on the Detroit river.

"I am not leaving the service under the delusion that we are effectively wiping out prohibition law violators," Davis said. "There is a lot to be done in Michigan and Ohio to make the prohibition law successful."

Community Tree Secured

Fine Tree Is Offered For Celebration In New Castle This Year

WILL BE ERECTED ON PUBLIC SQUARE

New Castle councilmen, W. V. Tyler, D. O. Davies and Louis Genkinger have selected Pa Newc's Christmas tree for this holiday season.

They made the selection this morning and it will be placed in position on the Public Square a few days before Christmas.

The tree is a home-grown product.

Here's how it came about.

In The News last night Councilman Tyler announced that the city was in the market for a tree and desired to secure one for the community celebration.

Tree Is Donated

The News had hardly been out for more than an hour when the telephone rang and Councilman Tyler was informed by T. S. McCombs, superintendent of Graceland cemetery, that the city could have a tree from the acreage and woodland owned by the cemetery company, and asked that councilmen come out and select one.

The councilmen took advantage of the offer and went out today and selected a tree.

Mr. McCombs has volunteered to have the tree cut down and the New Castle street department employes will bring it in from the woods to the Square.

The tree is a beauty, Councilman Tyler announces.

301 Applicants For Citizenship To Be Examined

W. C. McDougall, assistant naturalization examiner of Pittsburgh, is here today making preliminary examinations of applicants for naturalization, who are to appear for hearing on Friday, Dec. 9. Notices have been sent to 301 applicants to appear. This is the largest class ever known here. Mr. McDougall will be here all week. The preliminary examination consists of questions as to the applicant's place of residence, his age, length of residence in this country and knowledge of our government.

Subsequent search of the prisoners's home, police stated, revealed the remainder of the woman's body, and Tripia is allegd to have confessed the crime

One Witness Gives Shock To Prosecutor

Called To Testify As To Reputation Of Mrs. Gibson, "Pig Woman"

SAYS REPUTATION IS NOT SO GOOD

Handwritting Experts Are Again On Stand During Morning

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 30.—Prosecutor Alexander Simpson was given a distinct shock at the Hall-Mills trial today when one of his rebuttal witnesses called to testify as to the character of Mrs. Jane Gibson, declared the woman's "reputation for veracity" was not "so good". The "boomerang" witness was Dr. J. H. Cooper of East Millstone, N. J.

Simpson looked amazed. He turned to one of his assistants for a conference.

Personal Physician

Dr. Cooper said he was Mrs. Gibson's personal physician. He had known her for five or six years.

The witness was a trifle evasive at first and Simpson demanded:

"Tell me flat-footed whether her reputation is good or bad."

"Now, Mr. Simpson, I don't know where you are trying to hang me—"

Simpson insisted on an answer—was her reputation good or bad?

"Well," drawled the big, heavy-set doctor, with the quizzical, humorous expression, "I should say from what the neighbors say, it was about fifty-fifty."

There was more laughter and Simpson himself smiled and confessed that he "didn't know how you got on the stand."

Expert On Stand

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 30.—August Hartkorn, handwriting expert and "examiner of questioned documents" was recalled to the witness stand at the Hall-Mills trial today. Hartkorn, a state rebuttal witness, had examined the diary of Henry Stevens, and had testified that in his opinion three pencils were used to make

Have Breakfast At White House

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Another "harmony breakfast" was held at the White House this morning, at which President Coolidge and the Republican leaders of the House sat down to sausage and griddle cakes and discussed administration problems in the session of Congress that opens next week.

Today's breakfast to House leaders followed a similar one yesterday, at which members of the Senate were entertained.

Arthur Mometer

Some folks are belittlers, clear to the core, belittling all that they see, and today they have plied their nefarious trade, the one they've belittled is me. The trouble arose over Queen Marie, just to let you all know where I'm at, for a friend of mine, in a spirit of fun, wagered a smack dab new hat. And I won the new hat and I got it today. It's a cream-colored sort of creation, and it cost plenty pennies, but not me, my friend, and its color fills one with elation. But my friends, the belittlers, started to sing the moment they saw the new skimmer, and they chortled in glee as they saw what I had, and they said that the hat man's a flimmer. But I know a good hat, or I think that I do, though this new one is far from sedate; it's the last blooming word in its color and style; the weather is cool, thirty-eight.

Holly Season In Delaware

Farmers Already Gathering Christmas Decorations Once Scorned

Harvest Of Other Evergreens Also Being Reaped, Adding To Family Income

GEORGETOWN, Nov. 30.—Lower Delaware farmers have started gathering holly and other evergreens for the Christmas trade, and next week extensive shipments will be made from some of the towns on the Delmarva peninsula, especially Sussex county, to the western markets.

The first shipments after the Thanksgiving holidays are generally made to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and other middle western cities. The last two or three weeks before Christmas, all consignments are made to Albany, New York City, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Chester, Baltimore and Wilmington. But little boxholly is being shipped to nearby cities. Twenty-five years ago, almost all of the trade demanded box or case-holly, and wreath-making was a rarity. The demands for wreaths, however, steadily increased each year, until within the past few years nearly all shipments have been wreaths instead of twig holly.

The holly business is one of much interest to the lower Delaware farmer and by the end of the season means a swelling of his bank account. Some of them realize $500 to $1,000 within about four weeks from the industry. During the day the farmer and his boys go into the wood, cut branches from the trees and carry them home to the women folk who make them into beautiful window decorations. Gum twigs are used as hoops and the little branches of holly are wired to them. Usually there are four clusters of berries to each wreath. Some buyers demand five, and pay an additional cent for each wreath. The number of clusters of berries depends to a great extent on the market and the buyers.

All wreaths have to be of a certain dimension and as uniform as to the amount of holly on them as possible. Scanty foliage and inferior branches of berries will cause the wreath-maker to lose one and two cents on each. This means considerable to the farmer during the season.

The price paid, at the farmer's door, is usually from five to seven cents. Sometimes, but very seldom, buyers pay eight and nine cents. By the time the buyer packs them and sells them to the city dealer, and the latter in turn disposes of them to the customer the price has reached 25 cents or more. The customers, as in all instances where there are two or three middlemen's profits, pay a good price for this Christmas decoration.

During the season, some of the farmers' families devote almost all of their time to holly-wreath making, and in an evening will earn $5 or $6. Twelve and 14-year-old girls and boys have been known to earn as much as $200 during a season.

It has often been said a lower Delaware farmer can fail on all of his crops during the spring, summer and fall, but when the holly season arrives he and his family can earn enough to tide them over during the winter. This seems to be a true saying, especially within the past few years when there has been a demand for evergreens.

Town Talk

A truck driver is a truck driver, but not all of them can make a truck behave as was shown today when a truck belonging to the New Castle Transfer company slid off of the planks over the ditch at the corner of N. Mercer street and Sycamore alley. A good half hour was spent in jacking the truck up and getting it out of its restful position. This is the second motor vehicle to take a liking to the ditch where the water company is working in the last two days.

B. N. Hanlon of the New Castle Motor club has received the news that the American Automobile Association is planning on having a salute for the members of the club. The secretaries of this association find that while on the road they are unconsciously looking for cars carrying the AAA emblem and that they sort of warm up with a friendly feeling when one comes along.

It was suggested that the two drivers on meeting should honk their horn three times, but this would make too much noise. It is now thought that the best salute will be to hold the hand forward in a vertical position, with the thum and little finger closed, and the other fingers erect and separated, each one standing for each of the three A's.

What do the members of New Castle think of this? That is the work of Mr. Hanlon to find out. All members are requested to write out their opinion and send it to him at his office in the Safe Deposit & Trust building.

There are apparently some people in the city who believe that any kind of a ticket will do to ride on the streets cars of this city, but they usually count this way without considering the man in charge of the car.

In the past few days a lady in passing the farebox dropped in a milk ticket. The operator noticed it at once and called her attention to the fact.

"Won't that do?" questioned the lady when the operator asked her for a regular fare.

"Not at all," was the reply of the operator.

"Can't you get that ticket out for me?" then asked the lady.

"Not at this time," was the reply as the lady put in a regulation street car ticket.

Jack Trushel, member of the electrical department force of the city, is the owner of a keepsake given him many years ago by his father, which is of a rather unusual character.

In itself, it is of no great value. It is a trade dollar issued in 1878, but as a curio, its value is great and nothing would make Mr. Trushel part with it.

It has been in the possession of Mr. Trushel for many years before its peculiar character was discovered by him and that occurred quite accidentally.

One day it was dropped. On being picked up, it was discovered that the back was loose. Examination developed the interesting fact that the back swung out on a hinge.

Inside was a place for a picture or a lock of hair such as might be found in any regular locket. The back is hinged in such a manner that the hinge slides back and forward as it is opened or shut. It takes a jar to loosen the back.

When closed, it looks like any other similar piece of silver money.

Recently a well known operator of one of the Highland avenue streets cars had the following interesting experience with a lady passenger: On getting on, she gave him a half a dollar and received a strip of tickets. She went on in and took a seat without putting a ticket in the fare box.

"Lady, you forgot to drop in a ticket," reminded the operator.

"Didn't I just give you 50 cents," replied the lady.

"Yes, madam," replied the operator, "but if you didn't put a ticket in the fare box, you would never need to buy another strip of tickets."

Needless to say the ticket was placed in the box and the lady will find it necessary to purchase another strip of tickets in the course of time.

While waiting in the Union station, Chicago, for the train that was to carry them back to New Castle, Coach Bridenbaugh and Ralph Gardner entered into a conversation with a small Chinese youth, who appeared to be about 15 years old.

The Chinese boy was wearing a large red sweater coat and told the local men that he was a football player. He lived on the outskirts of Chicago and had attended the Army-Navy game.

Questioned further by Gardner, the youth admitted that he was a member of a high school football team and that the coach had used him as a lineman at first, but that he was later shifted to the backfield.

The youth weighed about 110 pounds and was lithe and slender, characteristic of the people of his race.

This story goes to show that it was a very democratic crowd that gathered for the grid classic in Chicago, from Vice President Dawes down to a small Chinese youth.

Several hundred New Castle citizens lined the Water street bank of the Neshannock creek and the Mill and East Washington street bridges for some time just before noon today and watched the "Human Cork" attired in a bathing suit do some stupnts in the icy waters. The "human cork" is a visitor in the city who is an exceptionally stout man, an while the water must have been exceptionally cold, he was a regular polar bear and didn't appear to mind the temperature in the least.

In connection with this incident it's peculiar to note how quick a crowd can collect down town. Gazing up and down streets there will be no more than a hundred or so pedestrians in sight. But let a fire alarm be turned in from a down town box or let something unusual occur that immediately attracts a small crowd and it is but the passing of but a few moments time when there is a crowd of hundreds assembled. The curiosity manifested by the average citizen is quite keen.

MAINE ELECTION GIVES REPUBLICANS ONE MAJORITY IN SENATE

land, Blease of South Carolina, Glass of Virginia, but the Democrats have nothing like the independent problem that is worrying Republican leaders.

As a matter of fact, actual control probably will devolve into a day-to-day proposition, and depend in large measure on the number of absentees. It is seldom that either party can muster its full strength on a question. There are always some absentees.

The Republicans are making strenuous efforts to increase their narrow paper control by enticing the sole Farmer-Labor vote, Senator Hendrik Shipstead, into their ranks. Yesterday the tall Minnesotan was a breakfast guest at the White House for the first time in his career. Later he had a private conference with President Coolidge.

What they talked about has not been made public. Senator Shipstead said he talked farm relief to Mr. Coolidge. The White House is silent on the conference.

It has been reported, however, that the Minnesotan has been given to understand that if he will "come into" the Republican party for nominal purposes there will be no administration candidate put up against him when he comes up for re-election two years hence. The acquisition of Shipstead, however, while it would give the Republicans a paper majority of two, would affect but little the actual control so eagerly sought by the Republicans.

notations under the date of September 14, 1922.

That is the date of the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills. Henry Stevens' alibi is that he was fishing at his home in Lavallette, N. J., that night and the notations in the diary had corroborated Stevens' claim.

Before Hartkorn took the stand Prosecutor Alexander Simpson asked if he could place a dozen or so character witnesses on the stand before Hartkorn continued his testimony. He said these witnesses were from out of town and wanted to get away as soon as possible.

Defense Opposes

The court asked if that procedure was agreeable to the defense.

"No, your honor," said Robert H. McCarter of the defense, "We want to proceed in the regular way."

Hartkorn was then called.

Hartkorn testified he was present when a photograph of the fingerprint on "S-17," the card found near the bodies on Rev. Hall and Mrs. Milis, was taken. The state alleges the print is that of the left index finger of Willie Stevens. Hartkorn said he found the initials "E. H. S." in the lower right hand corner of the card. He was asked if they were the initials of Edward H. Schwartz, finger-print expert of Newark, and he replied that he didn't know.

Simpson then turned him over to McCarter for cross-examination.

Made With Other Pencil

McCarter handed Hartkorn, Henry Stevens' diary.

"I understand you said yesterday that the entry on September 14, 1922, reading "Art 1 blue 6 lbs.," was made with another pencil?" McCarter said.

"Yes."

"What do you base that opinion on?"

"Because it is made with a softer lead."

Hartkorn testified that in his opinion Henry's entry of the 14th was intended originally for the 15th, because of a line being drawn under it to separate the two dates. He was then excused.

Judge Parker suddenly ordered five young men sitting in the gallery brought before him. He ordered them to be searched for concealed cameras. None of them had any cameras.

Dr. Walter Madden, former mayor of Trenton, N. J., testified that he knew Mrs. Jane Gibson from 1911 to 1914. He said her reputation for veracity was "fine." Defense witnesses had testified her reputation for veracity was "bad."

Plans Go Forward At Capitol For Contesting Vare

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Plans were being drawn at the capitol today to contest the seat of William S. Vare, Republican senator-elect from Pennsylvania.

Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, who spoke in Pennsylvania against Vare, has advised William B. Wilson, defeated Democratic candidate, to file a formal contest charging illegality in the election. Wilson has not yet replied to Norris' suggestion. If illegality were proved, Vare could be denied his seat by a majority vote.

Deaths Of The Day

Thomas Murdoch Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Thomas Reid Murdoch of Pittsburgh, Pa., whose death in the Sewickley Valley hospital on Sunday afternoon was the result of injuries sustained in a hunting accident a week ago will be conducted on Wednesday, December 1 at 2 p. m. from the family home, 5709 Woodmont avenue, Pittsburgh. The interment later will be private.

Mr. Murdich was the son of Frank C. Murdoch and Anna Patterson Murdoch, the latter a former resident of New Castle. Besides his parents he leaves two sisters Margaret Jane and Esther and three brothers, Dr. James C. Murdoch, Robert P. and Francis Murdoch.

The young man was a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh .

Mrs. Ella P. Thompson.

Mrs. Ella Paisley Thompson, aged 68 years, wife of William Thompson, died at her home in Cleveland, O., Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock after a brief illness, word to relatives here states.

Mrs. Thompson was a former resident of New Castle and will be remembered by many friends here.

Besides her husband she leaves the following children: W. H. and C. M. Thompson, both of New Castle; Mrs. Bessie Kennedy of Cleveland, O. J. Thompson of St. Paul, Minn., and Jewel Thompson at home. She also leaves two brothers, James Paisley of Cleveland and Charles Paisley of West Virginia, and one sister, Mrs. Eva McFarland, and a half-brother in Tampa, Fla.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Mrs. Margaret De Armand.

Word has been received in this city of the death of Mrs. Margaret De Armand, widow of John De Armand, former well known resident of New Castle, which occurred very suddenly at her home in Braddock, Pa., on Tuesday, November 23.

Funeral services took place on Thanksgiving Day at 11:30 at Mercer, Pa., where interment was made.

A sad feature of her death is that her husband died just a month ago. Friends from this city who attended the funeral in Mercer were Mrs. J. C. Yard, Mrs. William G. Patton, Ruth, Bobby and Gayl Patton and Mrs. J. L. McMullen.

Time of Funeral.

Funeral services for William Henry Sergeant of Croton avenue, will be held Wednesday morning, December 1 at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

The pallbearers were James Reynolds, Patrick Joyce, Patrick Conway, Hugh Daugherty, John Varley and Francis Bard. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

George W. Bowmaster.

George W. Bowmaster, aged 79 years, pioneer resident of Unionville, Center county, Pa., died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. P. S. Blackford, 1906 Highland avenue, Monday evening, November 29, at 10:45 after an extended illness due to the infirmities of age.

Mr. Bowmaster was born in Center county March 16, 1847, a son of Samuel and Mary Bearson Bowmaster. He had been at his daughter's home in this city about two weeks. He was a cabinet maker by trade.

Besides his widow Nancy J. Ayres Bowmaster, to whom he was married 57 years ago, he leaves the following children: Mrs. Blackford of this city, Samuel Bowmaster of Lock Haven, Pa.; Mrs. Ralph Hipple of Sykesville, Md.; James Bowmaster, Mrs. John Frazier and Clyde Bowmaster, all of Mill Hall, Pa., and Bert Bowmaster of Altoona, Pa. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Susan Bitner of Lock Haven, 43 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The body was sent today at 12:45 p. m. to Unionville, where funeral services will be conducted Wednesday, December 1, at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be made in Oak Ridge cemetery of that place.

Mr. Bowmaster was a member of the Christian church at Unionville.

Charles Byers.

Charles S. Byers, aged 70 years, died at his home in Talmage, Kansas, Monday morning. Death was due to complications. Mr. Byers was born and raised in Pulaski township, and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma Byers, and two sons, W. A., and T. S. Byers. There are also four brothers and one sister surviving. Lawrence Byers of the Pulasik road is a brother.

Nominate Officers For Lions Club At Meeting At Noon

New Castle Lions club held their monthly business meeting on Tuesday November 30 at the Elks club with 55 present. Andrew J. Nickas supreme secretary of the order of Ahepa made a brief address explaining the principles of the order. These he said were to teach Americanism, loyalty to country and obedience to law of the American citizens of Helenic birth or descent. His address was clear and concise and directly to the point.

Report of the nominating committee for 1927 officers was made as follows: President, W. D. Stitzinger; first vice president, Dr. J. L. Reed; second vice president, J. R. Ellison; third vice president, C. F. Kimmell; treasurer, Ed C. Wilson; sceretary, L. H. McCamic; tail twister, F. E. Sowersby; lion tamer Paul Welch; sky pilot, Rev. C. H. Holcomb; directors for two years, Jess Gibson and Thomas Elliott.

The election will be held next Tuesday December 7.

Many Eskimos Are Radio Fans

NEW YORK, Nov 30.—Radio operators who keep two sets of batteries one in the cookstove thawing out, while the other, in use, is freezing, were described today by Dr. William H. Easton, New York chief of the Westinghouse broadcasting system, in a talk on radio problems north of the Arctic Circle.

"Many Eskimos are radio fans," he said. "Among them is Pan-Ik-Pah, who was with Peary when he discovered the North Pole. Virtually the entire white population of North America north of the Arctic Circle are receiving personal messages regularly by radio, he said.

One of the uses of the radio, he said, was to inform inhabitants of sub-polar regions of the day of the month. The days being all "nights" in winter, the population sometimes gets as much as eight days behind the calendar.

FORESTERS URGE TREE PLANTING

District Foresters Are Interested In Tree Planting Campaign

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 30. — District foresters are playing an important part in the campaign to induce land owners to plant trees, Secretary of Forests and Water Robert Y. Stuart said today. Twenty million seedlings will be available for planting next spring. More than half that number already has been requested and approved.

District Forester V. M. Bearer, of Ligonier, publishes in the newspapers a list of the number of planters and the trees that have been granted in the district every two weeks. His slogan is "Watch It Grow." His last report to the department showed eighty-seven tree planters had been granted 509,450 trees.

In the Johnstown district, Forester T. I. Shirey has interested the forest fire inspector and they have been aiding in the drive to have trees planted where they are needed the most.

District forester H. A. Smith, of Pottsville, has outlined a campaign in the public schools in Northumberland county. He will give prizes of ornamental trees two and a half to three feet high for planting on the school grounds of each school that secures applications for the planting of two or more acres of idle forest land. He also is giving special prizes to schools that secure the greatest number of applications, that give the greatest assistance to land owners and that assist in getting the largest contiguous area planted.

District Forester R. L. Emerick, Scranton, has adopted the slogan "One Million Forest Trees For The Lackawanna District.' Applications already have been granted in his district for more than half a million trees. He has reported good co-operation from the newspapers of the section and he is confident of reaching the million mark.

In the Driftwood district, Forester C. C. Hogeland forwarded personal letters to each school teacher and to each lessee of a state permanent camp lease reminding them of the trees that are available and enclosing an application form. He said the letters have brought good results.

A number of the foresters have centered their efforts on private land owners who either have given or promised all possible co-operation not only in securing the trees but in aiding in their planting.

Claudel May Get Ambassador Post

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Foreign Minister Briand has been authorized to inquire of the United States whether M. Paul Louis Charles Claudel, at present French ambassador to Japan, will be acceptable as French ambassador to the United States.

If a favorable reply is received M. Claudel will be officially appointed on Saturday.

The appointment of M. Claudel is accepted here as indicating that France does not intend to seek for a reopening of the debt negotiations.

Harmony in Silverware

The wide scope of Mather Bros.' collection of silverware makes it an easy matter to maintain harmony in the selection of family silver or to choose appropriate individual pieces for gifts.

The knives, forks, spoons and other "flatware" are the foundation of the Family Silver. Naturally, the other Silverware of the Table Service should be in harmony with the "flatware" and if conformity in design can be maintained throughout it adds to the charm of the Family Silver. We are always glad to advise in the choice of Silver.

NOTHING EVER TAKES THE PLACE OF SILVER.

HAVE A HEART

THERE are not so many shopping days before Christmas as there were when first you were asked to do your Christmas buying early, and there is no hope that the number is going to increase between now and midnight of the twenty-fourth. Nor will prices be reduced; nor will the quality of the goods now on the shelves increase. So why linger and delay?

Perhaps there are those who believe that "Do your Christmas shopping early" is a slogan devised by merchants who thought they would sell more goods if people bought early, and then took thought, and discovered that there was more buying they ought to do. But while that doubtless occurred to the merchants, it was not by any means the controlling motive that inspired the shop-early propaganda which greets us annually.

The fact is, the request for early Christmas shopping came, first, chiefly from the postoffices, the express companies, the railroads and the sales and delivery people, all of whom found themselves swamped by a tidal wave that hit them suddenly and left them devastated. Some way had to be found for controlling this tide, for distributing its volume. So an attempt was made to educate the public into buying early and shipping early.

The fear of the merchant is not so much that his sales will not reach the hoped-for peak as that his future will be jeopardized. There is nothing that so disrupts a carefully-built organization as the overstrain of the two or three days—and nights—of hurried and harried labor before Christmas. Clerks break down; some of them leave; others are not fit again for some time, and meanwhile system goes to the dogs and the sales-machine has to be rebuilt. Customers, too, offended by some frazzled employe, get sore and vow never to trade there again. So the merchant, desiring to serve his public well, asks the public to help him to do so by distributing Christmas buying over as long a period as possible.

So it behooves the public, since it wants good service, to remember that the chief element in that service is the human element and that the human machine breaks under undue strain just like any piece of machinery. And because there is a human element involved, and because Christmas is a time for special charity to all humans, it is only reasonable that shoppers and shippers be considerate of the store clerk, the postal employe and the servants of the express companies and railways. They want to enjoy Christmas, too. Why make the Yuletide hateful to them? Have a heart. Do your Christmas shopping early.

INSURING THE FUTURE

LIFE insurance companies recount periodically the expansion of their business in terms of new policies written and death claims, endowments and annuities paid. It is natural that among the most interesting of the statistics should be enumeration of great sums of insurance carried upon the lives of individuals recently deceased.

Yet that millions are sometimes written upon a single life is not a true measure of the triumph of the idea of life insurance. The regard in which protection is held by the public and the extent of the beneficient influence are alike measured not by the few great politcies, but by the many small ones. A great service is done in writing a thousand policies for a thousand dollars each than in writing one policy for a million dollars. For it is in the universality of life protection that insurance will reach its greatest achievement.

Large policies, nevertheless, protecting investments of varied natures and vast ramifications, are coming into increasing popularity among men and corporations able to set aside liberal sums for this purpose. And the fact that rich men and great corporations find insurance a good thing adds greatly to the confidence of the man of small means in making a sacrifice today, if necessary, in order to safeguard tomorrow.

NO EXTRA CONGRESS SESSION

STAND which the president has taken against an extra session of congress is being applauded generally by the press and people of the country. While part of the applause it is admitted comes from those who believe that the situation would be ideal if congress never met, there is no denying that an extra session, to begin after the close of the present congress on March 4th, would only make for confusion and annoyance in the business world.

It is generally understood the promoters of this extra session idea are discussing a plan to force the president's hand by refusing to vote the appropriation bills, thus creating annoyance and distress in the operation of governmental activities.

That is the poorest kind of strategy. If the Democrats and insurgent Republicans adopt that course, they will once again have gone through the performance of cutting off their noses to spite their faces.

With this in mind, it is not surprising the president is not showing any particular distress over the extra session intimidation threats which are being uttered and is simply reaffirming his own position of opposition with his usual calmness and effectiveness.

A sound argument does not require as much sound as a weak one.

It's a losing proposition for a man to speculate on what his wife intends to do.

Some persons call it luck, but the wise man adds another letter and it is pluck.

There is not much to be said for the individual who gets most enjoyment out of seeing others work.

A whistle that can be heard 23 miles, probably the largest in the world, has been placed in a new power house at Avon, O. It appears that some of our motorists are overlooking a mighty good bet.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:34. Sun rises tomorrow 7:05.

You've got to keep whistling if you keep things humming.

Just because a Boston lady could not bear to hear her husband blowing about his affinity to her she sassed him and he beat her up. When a man is talking about his affinity to his wife she should keep still at least until she can yell for the police.

Putting over something big may be a feather in your cap, but who wants a feather in his cap?

Personally, I think the patriot who gets rid of his money before he does and sees to it that it is properly placed, gets more kick out of it than the fellow who waits until others spend his money for him.

If clothes make women happy, some of 'em must be cussed miserable.

The owners of several confectionery stores were arrested in Pittsburgh for running disorderly houses. We are betting that candy did not cause the disorder.

"Your features tell your past". Well, a flat nose may indicate that you once meddled too much.

The county commissioners and the Chamber of Commerce in Youngstown have launched a campaign against magazines displaying pictures of nude women. Wonder what made those two institutions get busy along that line all at once. It sure is unusual.

A youngster, asked by his teacher how iron was discovered, said they smelt it.

In England they say that hot dogs do not taste as good under any other name. We feel like yelling bow-wow every time we hear, no matter what they may think in England.

"I'll hear from all my friends now," said the lonely old millionaire as he advertised for suggestions on how to give away a million.

The hole in the doughnut was probably the first graft, but who wouldn't want a doughnut with a hole in it?

It is not a bad idea to have your last year's Christmas bills paid before piling up any new ones. It isn't likely the ones you owe will let you anyhow.

Wonder if automobile tires ever get tired?

The postmistress at Russellton, Pa., was married two years before it became known to the public in that place. Wonder why they spoiled it all by telling?

It looks as if we might have some rain for Christmas.

The cause of crime is either alcohol or prohibition, depending upon the way you look at it.

Next thing some one will tell us Xmas is mentioned in the Bible.

It's getting so now that one has to have a fairly good reputation before much credit is given as a witness in court. If there is the least shadow on one's name a cloud is immediately placed over it by the lawyers and you emerge from the stand as a crook or something. So live your life so you can go on the witness stand and tell any lawyer to go bite himself.

An Ohio senator got a verdict of $25,000 against a prohibition officer because the officer searched his place for booze—and didn't find any. The only bad thing about this is that the officer went on it because he received an anonymous letter.

Now some birds want to make it "Five days shalt thou labor and do all the work."

The public simply never does want what it doesn't know about. That is what makes advertising the big thing for business.

A real estate firm in Tampa, Fla., has gone into the hands of a receiver and it has liabilities of three and one half million dollars and its assets consist of lots and contracts. We would rather have what it owes than what it has. And the season hasn't even started yet in Florida.

Just because a Pittsburgh gentleman threw a deck of cards in his wife's face and cussed her something awful right in front of company because she made a wrong bid while playing bridge, he is now being sued for a divorce, by his wife of course. Bridge also causes a lot of trouble in the world, it seems.

Was Hard of Hearing.

The assistant minister announced to the congregation that a special baptismal service would be held the following Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and that any infants to receive the rite should be brought to the church at that time.

The old clergyman, who was deaf, thought that his assistant was speaking of the new hymnals, and he added a bit of information:

"Anyone not already provided can obtain them in the vestry for a dollar, or with red backs and speckled edges for one dollar and a half."

Cows have become so scarce in Pittsburgh, Pa., that one has been put in the zoo, as half of the city children have never seen one. For the same reason they ought to put a live farmer in with her. More than half the people of eastern cities have never seen a real farmer, although they feel they know quite a bit about farming.

Through Smiling.

The social worker was visiting a hospital with flowers and cheer. A young man, heavily bandaged, attracted her attention.

"It's too bad," she said. "Just keep on smiling, though, you'll be all right soon."

"I'll never smile again," he declared.

"Nonsense."

"I mean it. It's through smiling at another fellow's girl that I got here."

Now that the football season is over, the boys who wear the funny riggin' and kick their heels in the air—the cheer leaders—ought to be given a vacation.

At this time of year a detour is the muddiest distance between two given points.

When that five-day week becomes a reality it will relieve the boss of the Saturday payroll worry. He would do it on Friday.

With the Marines guarding the mails, the robbers have turned their attention again to the banks. At Defiance, O., five bandits got away with about $55,000 of the people's money. When a robber robs the bank the people are insured against loss. But when the bank officials do the robbing the bank usually breaks and the people lose. The bank officials usually do a more thorough job than the robbers.

Mount Vesuvius is raising Ned again and scaring the people. We'll have to see Mussolini about that.

The brick hurler on the East and South Sides has done some real damage with his actions. Much more physical damage than has been done by the mud-slinging. But the windows broken can be repaired, but the heartaches time only will heal.

"He said to win her was easy."
"She said it was a tight squeeze."

Just about the time you get one day that makes you believe Christmas is on the way, along come two or three that smack of spring. The winter this year can't be very long unless it runs up into the spring and summer, and we don't want that.

Graduates of Cornel University are complaining because the classes are so arranged there that the football players have to do their practicing late in the afternoon and evening under electric lights, and they want to have hours of the classes changed. Now isn't that fine? It's a shame to make the college students work between four and six p. m. each day. Why not let them have their practice in the morning and the teachers can have their classes at night.

The health of the striking miners in England has been greatly improved since the strike because they don't get so much to eat. Now if that is a true corollary on conditions there, a little less prosperity in this country would greatly improve the nation's health. That would be fine for everyone but the undertakers.

A Harvard professor comes forward with the idea that by shortening the alphabet the country would save $1,000,000,000. Dividing that evenly among the 100,000,000 people in the country would be $100 apiece. We'd be in favor of that.

When you see a man under a car now, he isn't fixing it. He's the one that needs fixing.

A move is on foot in New York to give the pedestrian the right-of-way and to give more time to the fat people for crossing the street. Under this plan a pedestrian wouldn't have to run to get across if the time was short, but the autos would have to slow up. That is fine for the walker, but how about that line of cars moving along about six inches apart? When No. 1 car stops the others get their radiators and rear ends knocked off. The real solution of the traffic problem would be to forbid pedestrians on auto thoroughfares and to have special streets for the few who want to walk.

Roumania is reported to be on the verge of civil war. It must remind Queen Marie somewhat of her train trip through the West.

Newlywed, to the real estate salesman who is trying to sell her a home: "Why buy a home? I was born in a hospital ward, reared in a boarding school, educated in a college, courted in an automobile, and married in a church; get my meals at a cafeteria, live in an apartment; spend my mornings playing golf, my afternoons playing bridge; in the evening we dance or go to the movies; when I'm sick I go to the hospital, and when I die I shall be buried from an undertaker's. Why should we buy a home, I ask you? All we need is a garage with bedroom."

All Jaws Imperfect.
A New Alphabet.
U. S. A. Boycott.
The Mexican Situation.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. American, Inc.

Dr. H. Campbell, British authority, says no living Briton has a normal jaw, because British food, as now used, does not compel chewing muscles to do their work. "We are the only nation that insists on a lot of soft pudding every day. We cut off our crusts and live on sponge and pulp."

* * *

Dr. Campbell urges parents to give children food that will exercise their jaws, and says "the people of England are the worst fed of any in the world."

He evidently does not know America, land of professional teeth straighteners, where every prosperous parent figures about fifteen hundred dollars for straightening each child's teeth.

High palates, narrow, undeveloped jaws, unused salivary glands, consequent bad digestion, malnutrition, imperfect development, all come of giving our young children soft pap, swimming in milk or cream, nothing to chew.

And men eat soft stuff, that they may get it down in a hurry, stew, pie, milk toast, pancakes. Look at the teeth of a dog, chewing his bone.

Dr. G. Dewey of Harvard wants the nations using our alphabet to save a thousand million dollars a year merely by improving on the work that the phoenicians began. The new alphabet would have 24 consonants, 13 vowels, four diphthongs and a sign for "the," a word that makes up seven per cent of all the words on a printed page.

Books, magazines, newspapers would be smaller, lighter, cheaper, printers, stenographers, typewriters would save time. Reading would be a swifter process.

It is a good suggestion that will not be adopted. But this country and Britain, at least, ought to adopt the metric system in weights, measures, and in Britain for money also. That would be simple.

Europe's great powers, Britain, France, Italy, Germany, will have another Locarno conference, and Senator Borah says it is aimed at us.

Europe wants to make herself economically independent of this country, and in certain lines, rubber and oil, for instance, Europe wants America to be dependent on her.

True, perhaps, but why not? Life is a struggle, trade is a polite cut-throat game. Many nations, with trade forced on them at the bayonet't point, can swear to that.

This nation can protect itself and not whimper. Europe owes us billions, does not want to pay. If she does pay, she means to pay with our money.

And what about people? We need Europe's markets to sell goods to people there. Why not change the stupid immigration laws and have more people here? Farmers vote to keep out the sort of immigration to which this country owes everything. And then the farmers weep because they have surplus products. They will weep more if Europe organizes a boycott against the United States trade.

* *

If Senator Borah, head of foreign relations in the senate, thinks Europe is planning a United States boycott, the Mexican situation should interest him. Luckily, American republics do not owe us any billions. It should be possible to keep friendly with them and refrain from bullying them.

MOST PEOPLE FIND—

The world is well stocked with trouble if they go out looking for it.

The world is unfriendly just because they never invite friendships.

In Day's News

James Thom, a young Scotsman who left his home in Aberdeen seven years ago to take up a post with the Hudson Bay Company in the frozen wastes of northern Canada beyond the Arctic Circle, has just returned to civilization. He has been alone practically during the whole seven years, earning for himself the name of the "World's Loneliest Man". He received news of the outside world and letters from home only once a year, and to meet the boat containing his annual batch of newspapers and letters he had to travel over 400 miles with his dog team. He thinks the nearest post, 700 miles away, with its four buildings and seven inhabitants, is much too crowded, while life in a city would be simply unbearable in the mind of the "Loneliest Man".

Mrs. Tipton Bud's father is ninety-one t'day an' he's only seen "Abie's Irish Rose" three times an' wuz never on a bicycle. That Russian aviator that committed suicide must have been in an awful hurry.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE WEATHER OF THE SOUL

The soul has its weathers.

Sometimes all is bright and serene, and other times it is dark and cloudy.

Sometimes it is clear weather and sometimes stormy.

As in the case of the winds, of which we know not whence they come nor whither they go, but take their blowing as an act of God beyond our control, so our moods and tempers seem to arise we know not how.

The best we can do is to maintain our poise as much as possible and turn toward our ideals when the winds of pessimism and doubt are upon us, and remain as equable as we can.

We speak of getting out of bed in the morning with the wrong foot foremost. It is another way of saying that we are in the grip of a mood that is beyond our control.

How many acts of our fellows that seem to us malicious are simply due to the prevalence of some uncontrollable mood in them?

There are some people, thanks be, that are always bright and cheery. One who has this sunny disposition is to be congratulated, and even more to be felicitated are those about him.

If one can be a point of sunshine in this storm-tossed world he has certainly added much to human well being.

The alternation of moods, however, is common to all of us. We should all expect some dark days and resist their influence as much as possible. We can do very much with our will.

Our judgment should tell us the danger of letting ourselves go when "the wind is from the east." We should wait until the times change and not give way to dark humors. It can be accomplished if we are but fixed in our determination to encourage cheerful moods and discourage untoward feelings.

We cannot control our feelings, it is true, but by a set purpose we can make them strengthen us.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

FOREIGN BRICK.

There is much good clay in these United States, suitable for the making of brick. They make brick here in New Castle,—very good brick. The state of Ohio contains probably more brick manufacturers than any other state in the Union. New Hampshire used to be the home of the brickmaker. New Hampshire was a great brick State,—the biggest brick yard in the world was at Dover Point for so many years that the big Encyclopedias spoke of Dover Point when they talked about brick.

It may therefore be interesting to the New Castle brick maker to know that forty million of bricks were imported from Europe last year at the lowest prices quoted in recent years, for American bricks. This is nearly a million dollars spent abroad for a commodity which is made in such prodigal amount in this country. Makes no difference how exceptional was the quality, or how fancy were the designs of this foreign brick,—just as good bricks both in quality and design can be made in the United States. What is the reason.

When the Harkness Memorial Dormitory was built at Yale University the architect specified that the bricks used in certain parts of that building should be at least fifty years of age. The contractors who undertook the building bought old brick houses, going far afield from New Haven to find these houses. Each brick house bought was more than fifty years old. These houses were carefully taken down, and the brick shipped to New Haven, and and there incorporated into the walls of the great Memorial.

Gamble Rogers, the architect, said in answer to a question as to why this was done: "Modern bricks are not made as well as they were made fifty years ago. They will not survive centuries of frost and storm. The Memorial Dormitory is being built to endure for several centuries at least, hence the fifty year old brick. I know they will endure."

Can it be possible that the foreign brick manufacturers are really making better brick?

SUCCESS

This is success: to live beyond deceit,
Too big to play the liar or the cheat,
Too big to lean when burdens heavy grow,
Asking no favor from a friend or foe,
Standing to life and all that it may mean
With head erect and hands and conscience clean.

This is success: to live from year to year
Not asking always sunny skies and clear,
But wise enough to know and understand
Life never runs exactly as we've planned;
Seeking the best, but when the worst is met
Taking the blow without too much regret.

This is success: with all to play the friend,
Willing to give and glad at times to lend,
Laughing and singing whensoe'er you may,
But walking bravely through the rainy day,
Giving your best throughout the passing years,
Neither deceived by flattery nor by sneers.

This is success: the love of friends to win,
To taste no pleasure that may lead to sin,
To take no profit from the hand of shame,
But by a fair fight win or lose the game;
To get from life such triumphs as you can,
But still throgh good or ill to play the man.

POEMS HOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"The Sea Gypsy" by Richard Hovey.

Hovey wrote the incomparable 'Songs from Vagabondia" in collaboration with his friend Bliss Carman. He died young, in the prime of his fame. His death left a void which was never filled. Had he lived, undoubtedly he would have become a supreme force in American letters. His strength lies in his intense virility as a poet in the glowing images he was so fond of making.

I am fevered with the sunset,
I am fretful with the day,
For the wanderlust is on me
And my soul is in Cathay.

There's a schooner in the offing,
With her topsails shot with fire,
And my heart has gone aboard her
For the island of Desire.

I must forth again tomorrow!
With the sunset I must be,
Hull down on the trail of rapture
In the wonder of the Sea.

I Will Pay any price for New Beauty

By Edna Wallace Hopper

For 40 years I have made it known that I would pay any price for new beauty. As a result, many able scientists have given me their best.

In this quest for youth and beauty I have made 35 trips to France, and have spent at least $100,000. So I feel that I have the best beauty helps in the world. All who see what they did for me feel as I do about them.

One is my White Youth Clay. It is white, refined and dainty, the final result of 20 years of scientific study. It combines with two clays several other splendid factors. And nothing I ever found brings so much added beauty so quickly. It changes a woman's entire aspect inside 30 minutes.

My White Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs or mars it. It draws out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It draws the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy afterglow which amazes and delights. It combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores.

Please see what it does. No girl or woman will ever go without it when she knows. All toilet counters sell Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay at 50c and $1. Or the coupon will bring you a sample tube with my Beauty Book. Either buy it at your store or clip the coupon now. Do this for beauty's sake.

She will recover without ill effects.

Man Arrested In Shooting Scrape

(International News Service)

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 30.—Peter Forte, 48, a miner, was in the Brownsville hospital with a bullet wound in his head and Thomas Shaw 29, of Clarksville, near here, was held in the Washington county jail today to await the outcime of Forte's injuries.

East Bethlehem township authorities arrested Shaw after the shooting which occured at Clarksville. They were able to learn but little of the circumstances of the shooting, but said it followed an altercation between the two men.

The bullet entered the left side of Forte's face near the nose. His condition is serious.

Find Stolen Auto With Parts Missing

The automobile of James W. Gross of R. D. No. 4, stolen from Croton avenue on November 4, was found Monday in a woods in the Plaingrove district. It had been stripped of all parts that could be removed, including one of the wheels. The hunters notified the police and they in turn notified the owner.

NEW TYPE OF CHECK ARTIST REPORTED HERE

A new type of check artist is operating here, according to the compalint registered with the police Monday and investigated by Detective Horner and other officers of the city police force.

The new type of thief rents a room, orders groceries sent up with change, presents a check in payment, receives the change and disappears.

In this case of Monday a man arrived at the home of Mrs. George Williams of 707 Croton avenue and asked to rent a room. He secured the room, then remarked that his wife would come later and asked if they would be permitted to cook.

On being informed this could be done, the man called the Alexander Cut Rate grocery on East Washington street and ordered groceries to the value of $3.47 sent to the Williams home. He directed that change for $20 be sent with the order.

On the delivery of the groceries he presented a check on the Citizens National bank and signed "W. C. Allison" for $20 receiving $16.53 in change.

He left soon after the delivery of the groceries and has not been seen since. The check is of no value the police state.

Daugherty Called To Give Testimony In Fall-Doheny Case

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Another figure prominent in the Harding administration who is facing trial for conspiracy to defraud, made an appearance today in court at the trial of former Secretary of Interior Fall and E. L. Doheny.

He was Harry M. Daugherty, formerly United States attorney general. He had been called by the government to answer just one question—whether his former cabinet colleague had asked him for an opinion as the legality of the oil leases to Doheny.

On January 3, Daugherty will again go on trial with Col. Tom Miller, former alien property custodian, for alleged collusion in a deal involving the return of German-owned property. The first trial ended in a jury disagreement.

NEARLY 17,000 ACCIDENTS IN SINGLE MONTH

Hundred And Seventy Fatal Accidents In State In Month

By WILLIAM BROWN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 30.—During October the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation received reports of 170 fatal and 16,389 non-fatal accidents in the state according to compilations made public today. The figures were for accidents during the course of employment.

The October figures brought the total of reported accidents for the first ten months of the year to 1,747 in the fatal class and 148,736 in the non-fatal. Compared with the same period of last year there was an increase of 12 fatal accidents and 749 non-fatal accidents. Although there has been but little change in the totals the percentage in various groups has shown considerable divergence.

In the construction and contracting industry fatal accidents reported were 33 or 15.6 per cent less than the number reported for the same period in 1925. Manufacturing industries showed a decrease of 3,381 non-fatal accidents but an increase of four per cent in the fatalities for the ten month period.

Because of certain changed classifications it has been impossible to determine accurately the actual ratio for transportation and public utility companies but it is estimated that the accident total is 16 per cent less than it was at this time last year.

In the anthracite industry there were 378 fatal and 24,665 non-fatal accidents during the first ten months of this year. These figures compare with 425 and 21,284 non-fatal accidents during the same period a year ago.

There were 364 fatal and 17,635 non-fatal accidents in the bituminous mines in the ten months this year compared with 296 and 12,829 last year.

The anthracite mines it was pointed out were not in operation during the last four months of 1925 making the accidents in that industry lower than usual for the year. Accidents in the bituminous industry both fatal and non fatal were boosted for this year by two large disasters one in February and the other in October.

People generally save a few cuss words for a rainy day.

TWO WOMEN FOUND HELP

By Reading Experiences of Other Women

Mrs. Nina Matteson, Box 206, Oxford, N. Y., writes—"If it had not been for your medicine, I could not have done my work as it should have been done. Mother told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I had read in different papers what it had done for different women. She wanted me to try it, so my husband got me one bottle at first; then I took two others. * * * Now I am feeling quite strong again."

Mrs. Ernest Tanguay of Adams, Mass., says she was ill for four years and could not sleep nights or go out on the street. She read about the Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking eight bottles she was able to do all her work and go anywhere and is quite herself again.

This dependable Vegetable Compound is a household word in thousands of homes. The fourth generation is now learning the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If this medicine has helped other women, why shouldn't it help you? At your druggist's.

Dr. C. C. Green Makes Address

Superintendent Of Schools Addresses Woman's Club On Education Trend

DISCUSSES SCHOOL CONDITIONS OF DAY

Members of the Woman's club had an interesting meeting in the Highland U. P. church, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The prospect of bringing Dr. John Coleman of Geneva college to give a series of lectures on "Current Events" to begin the latter part of January was thoroughly discussed and decided upon.

It is thought that many persons outside of the club will be interested Dr. Coleman is especially good along this line and numerous requests have been made for lectures of this type.

Following the business session Mrs. John G. Nothdurft chairman of the Educational committee introduced Dr. C. C. Green, city superintendent of school, who gave a most enlightening and interesting talk on "Modern Trends of Education".

Dr. Green's talk follows in part:

Modern Educational Trends.

Within recent years there has been an enlarged concept on of the functions of public education. Originally it existed for the purpose o promoting literacy and citizenship Now the schools are called upon to grasp the significance of their social and political relationships and transform themselves into institutions for the improvement and advancement of the welfare of the state.

Recently there has been an attempt to nationalize education but with this movement we have no sympathy.

There are certain modern sociological movements which have had a mighty effect upon the educational program. The first of these movements I would characterize as a new estimate placed upon the value of child life. This has expressed itself in child labor legislation, the education of defectives the education of superior children etc.

Secondly, there has been a new interest in health problems as applied to the public and to individuals. The care of the organs of sight and hearing, the care of the teeth and general health supervision are now considered problems of vital interest to the public.

Then the public has come to recognize individual differences in pupils resulting in the vocational education movement and vocational guidance.

The general acceptance of the principle of compulsory education is a movement which has had a marked influence upon the organization of public education.

Does education cost too much? This is an age old claim. Even in the time of Socrates it was a subject of bitter controversy. Like everything else, education has been increasing in cost during the last 10 or 12 years. In 1910 America spent on her public schools one-half billion dollars; in 1920 she spent one and one-quarter billion dollars; since 1920 she has spent still more. Even if there was an increase of 150 per cent, that is still less than in many other forms of public service. During the decade immediately preceding 1920 there was an increase of 150 per cent in commodities and in building materials 200 per cent.

In considering the question of the cost of public education may we not consider the relation between the cost of education and the cost of luxuries? California has one of the most expensive school systems in the country. In that state the per capita cost for schools is $18.80. The per capita cost for tobacco is $21.62, the per capita cost for chewing gum is $20. The per capita cost for movies is still more. No one complains about the cost of tobacco, chewing gum and movies.

Why is schooling sometimes worthless or even worse in the case of certain individuals? Beyond a certain school experience in the learning of the fundamentals I fear that it is true in the case of certain individuals that advanced schooling is sometimes worthless or even worse. There may be many reasons for that condition of affairs. I believe, however, that there are two outstanding reasons which are characteristic of the age in this country. First, there was a time when boys worked their way thru school. Now there are too many parents who are working their boys through school and incidentally trying to work the schools. Second, many young people today do not want to start at the bottom and work up. They want to begin at the top.

At this point I should like to give utterance to certain cautions which I believe to be worthy of the consideration of thoughtful people.

First, there is a disposition on the part of the public to impose so many duties upon the teacher that it is difficult for her to do anything well. Second, it is difficult for the general public to understand the real nature of the educative process in its general aspect. That is, that the school can do little more than create a situation which is favorable to the thought process. The pupils must do the rest. Pupils are not receptacles into which teachers can pour something, or, using the words of Dr. John Dewey, the eminent philosopher, "Children are not so many intellectual chickens which have been stuffed."

Public school teachers must use every effort possible to understand the home and the home must be taught patiently to understand the work of the school.

I should also like to utter a word of warning against certain social tendencies which have a mighty influence upon the work of the schools. These social tendencies are not characteristic of New Castle but are quite common in the country at large. I refer to social life of the wrong type—the spending mania and the dress mania. Let it be understood that I do not believe that the young people of this age are worse morally than the young people of former times. On the other hand, I believe that they are better. It is true that they are more frank in their conduct and in this they deserve praise rather than censure. It is true, however, that the school and the home must exercise eternal vigilance in combating certain undesirable features of social life—the foolish desire to spend money merely for the sake of spending and the tendency on the part of young people to clothe themselves in expensive garments merely for the sake of "keeping up with the Jones."

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 437 N Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Pitt Co-Eds Who Landed In Jail Face Expulsion

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH Nov. 30.—Two Pittsburgh co-eds, whose search for thrills landed them behind the bars of Homestead, Pa., jail, today faced expulsion from the University of Pittsburgh, together with two youths who escorted them on their lark, if investigation discloses that the quartet is enrolled in that institution.

John G. Bowman, chancellor of the university, was emphatic in his announcement that the students would not be permitted to continue in school if the group that faced the Homestead burgess together with more than 150 others, mostly negroes, proved to be Pitt students.

"If evidence is presented that any of our students were arrested in those questionable places they will be expelled," Chancellor Bowman said.

The four were arrested when Homestead officials raided four questionable resorts. They gave fictitious names and addresses, it is believed.

Hadassah Sabbath Will Be Observed

Special Speaker For This Evening —Plans Being Made For Tea

Tonight under the auspices of the Zionist district of New Castle and Hadassah, will be held Hadassah Sabbath—a time set aside in the synagogues of America, and dedicated to the organization whose service is healing. No one questions that Hadassah has done and is doing in the Holy Land to Moslew, Jew and Christian alike. In order to continue and extend the work of Hadassah, the organization must grow by the addition of enrolled members. Hadassah Sabbath will inaugurate a period of concentrated work for the purpose of increasing its memerical strength, and locally will terminate in a Hadassah Tea to be given in the month of December.

The speaker of the occasion needs little introduction to American Jewry. Pre-eminent alike as author and orator, a leading figure in the Zionist movement, Samuel, young as he is, occupies a secure place in the foremost ranks of literary figures. It is taken for granted that his recent personal contact with Palestine, and its unfolding life has served to enrich his always keen sympathies on the Jewish renaissance and to supply him with first hand information so as to render his judgment on Palestinian issues authoritative. New Castle is thus afforded an excellent and inimitable account of that life that stirs and pulses in the Jewish homeland. Mr. Maurice Samuel's latest literary production is a book entitled, "I, the Jew."

Mrs. L. F. Kohn, President.

TRIO IN GUN FIGHT WHEN SHERIFF WAS KILLED FINED $800

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Nov. 30.—Three whisky runners who were present last August at Provident when Sheriff Sam Dunfee of Belmont county, was slain as he tried to stop a booze car, were fined $880 and costs in the Belmont county court today, when two of them pleaded guilty of transporting intoxicants.

The fines were assessed after Andy Vitula had been refused a new trial following his conviction on a prohibition violation charge. Mike Dragovich, who was found not guilty of murdering the sheriff following a trial two months ago, and the beneficent utility of everything Vida Radonovich, who was wounded in the battle with the officers, then changed their plea to guilty and were given the same fine as Vitula.

FOR Sour Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips". Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug-store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Probe Reports Hall-Mills Jury Decision Made

Hotel Proprietor Declares Jury Is Split On Verdict At Present Time

THREE OF JURORS FOR CONVICTION

Hotel Man Reports To Court As He Believes His Duty Directs

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 30.—Sensational charges that the Hall-Mills murder trial jury already has made up its mind, that it stands nine for acquittal and three for conviction and that it has talked freely of its prejudice against the state's case, today caused a furore in Somerville and reports were circulated that Prosecutor Alexander Simpson plans to demand a mistrial. The charges were made by Gilbert Van Doren, owner of the Colonial Hotel, where the jury is quartered.

Van Doren, the third largest taxpayer in Somerset county, who has lived here for fifty-six years, wrote a letter containing these charges, to County Judge Frank L. Cleary, sitting in the case with Justice Charles W. Parker. The gist of Van Doren's communication was carried in International News Service dispatches yesterday.

Van Doren, 78 years old and independently wealthy, today admitted it was he who wrote to Judge Cleary complaining of the actions of the jury. He lives at the hotel.

He was interviewed today in his "office" and room on the second floor of the hotel. He is a gray-haired, gray-mustached little man, ruddy faced and wrinkled.

"I'm sorry I'm dragged into this", he said "but now that I'm in it, I'm not going to back down. I thought I could give the information to Judge Cleary without my name getting in the newspapers.

"But what I said in the letter about the jury is right. I've been staying here at the hotel all along and could see and hear what was going on.

"Three of the jurors are for conviction. I can name them. The other nine are for acquittal. He said the jurors talked the case over loudly and freely at the hotel; that they made no secret of their prejudice against the state's case even before Mrs. Jane Gibson appeared as a witness; that after she appeared, he repeatedly heard her referred to as "liar"; that he heard the jurors make such statements as "Simpson and his Hudson county officers have come to Somerset county to show us how to run things, but they won't get away with it".

Van Doren declared he wrote to Judge Cleary because he thought it was his duty to do so as a citizen who did not want a stain cast on the name of Somerset county, that he "wouldn't take the stand for $10,000", but that he will take the stand and tell what he knows if he is requested to do so.

When Simpson came into the court room this morning he would not discuss his plans regarding a motion for a mistrial. It was learned, however, that his assistants are actively seeking evidence regarding the jury and that one matter being investigated is a report that a Somerville minister called one of the jurors aside the other day and talked to him for five minutes.

Large Order For Pulaski Business

Officials of the Pulaski Umber company, the greatly rejuvenated industry of Pulaski, which is soon to be on a large production basis, has just received a large order from one of the larger phonograph record producing companies of the United States, for its product. Umber has been been found to be productive of better and softer tones in phonographic records and is to take the place of cottonstone, which has been used in the past. It is expected that still other large companies will take advantage of the opportunity of purchasing this product for the same purpose.

Had Gas 25 Years Gone Now

"I suffered 25 years with stomach gas and constipation, and tried many remedies. After taking Adlerika, I can eat anything. I feel just full of pep."—Mrs. E. J. Beaudette.

Adlerika gives the system a REAL cleansing and brings out old poisons which may have caused trouble for a long time. Unlike most medicines, it acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and takes away that full, bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. Even if bowels move daily, Adlerika brings out much additional poison which you never thought was in your system and which caused sour, gassy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In New Castle at Love & Megown's.

Buzzards Follow On Auto Highways

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Nov. 30. — Buzzards have learned the benefit of speeding motorists on the highways of York county, according to reports and they have begun to patrol the arteries of traffic in great numbers in search of food.

Chickens, rabbits, cats and other small animals, killed by passing automobiles, furnish the buzzards with many a fine banquet.

Drivers of automobiles say that frequently they observe the vultures soaring high above improved highways in the county and descending when they sense the presence of carrion along the road beneath. The birds have grown to be unafraid of automobiles and frequently move but a few feet to the side of the highway as machines pass.

The art of using the lipstick, rouge pad and powder puff will be taught to German girls. American girls appear to learn by intuition.

Choose the Family Christmas Gift—As the Artists Do—by Selecting A Piano Made by Baldwin

A few of the many reasons why you will establish your prestige as an admirer of all that is artistic and beautiful by selecting a BALDWIN Made Piano for your home and family.

1. The Great Masters of the Piano—DePachmann, Bachaus, Pouishnoff, Carreras, Giesek ing, Casella, and a host of others, find only in the Baldwin that inspiration and intimate response so necessary for perfect artistic expression.

2. The leading Evangelists—Rev. Billy Sunday, Homer Rodeheaver, Bob Jones, Rev. Milford H. Lyon, Virgil P. Brock, use the Baldwin whenever possible in their evangelistic campaigns and call it the finest piano they have ever used anywhere. Rev. Billy Sunday has used a Baldwin exclusively for sixteen years.

3. Fifty-three powerful radio stations have discovered that the purity and finer resonance of Baldwin tone appears to particular advantage when broadcasting their programs. Harry Snodgrass, the King of the Ivories, won his title on a Baldwin.

4. Famous singers—Chaliapin, Johnson, Raisa, Bori, Easton, and other artists, likewise use the Baldwin exclusively for their recital appearances and unqualifiedly praise its sympathetic support and surpassing richness of tone.

5. The United States Government, inviting bids for pianos to be purchased for the extreme climate of the Panama Canal Zone, uses the specifications of the Baldwin Piano with the comment: "This piano must be equal to The Baldwin."

6. His Holiness Pope Pius XI recently awarded the Papal Medal to the Baldwin and designated the House of Baldwin "Purveyors to the Holy See."

7. The foremost opera organizations, The Chicago Civic Opera, Ravinia Opera and San Carlos Opera have selected the Baldwin as the official piano for their artists.

8. The piano chosen by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge for her personal use in the White House is a Baldwin. Mrs. Warren G. Harding and Mrs. William Howard Taft, while in the White House, also chose a Baldwin.

Father And His Relatives Given Margaret Craig

Habeas Corpus Case Ends At Noon Today With Order By Judge Hildebrand

Margaret N. Craig, aged six years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Craig, for whose possession a fight has been on before Judge Hildebrand since yesterday morning, was given into custody of the father, Jefferson Craig, and Mr. and Mrs. William Frantz under a decision of Judge Hildebrand at noon today.

Mrs. Nora Pearl Norris, mother of the child, is to be permitted to visit at the Frantz home on Wallace avenue at such times as she may deem proper, and is to be accorded courteous treatment. This order is to stand until any further application for custody is made, which will be heard at a time fixed by the court.

The child has been with Mr. and Mrs. Frantz for the past two years with the exception of a short time when she was taken by the mother to Washington, Pa. At yesterday afternoon's session of court a number of witnesses were called to testify as to the fitness of Mr. and Mrs. Frantz as custodians of the child. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. William G. Dunn, Mrs. Ella Magill, Mrs. Jennie Harper and Mrs. Nancy Wheeler.

After a number had been called Judge Hildebrand said that it was not necessary to go further into the qualifications of Mr. and Mrs. Frantz, and ordered other witnesses called. Mrs. Minnie McKibben, Mrs. Mary J. Bell, Mrs. Jessie Reynolds and Miss Maude Keyser were called to testify to actions of Mrs. Norris previous to and during the time of her divorce from Jefferson Craig.

Four witnnesses were called from Washington, Pa.: R. J. McBride, H. T. Humphrey, Mrs. Mary Stahl and Mrs. Catherine Donnell, all of whom testified as to the kind of a home the child was in in Washington, Pa., when she was staying with her grandparents.

CHEWING GUM MACHINE STOLEN FROM STORE

Famous Leiter Case Re-Opens

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Joseph Leiter was called to the witness stand today for cross-examination in the resumption of his trial for alleged mismanagement of the estate of his father, the late L. Z. Leiter, multi-millionaire Chicago merchant.

A battery of legal talent and a chewing courtroom thronged with sightseers anxious to catch a glimpse of the titled Leiter girls, who figured prominently in the suit, marked today's court session.

Suit against Leiter was instituted by Lady Marguerite Hyde, Countess of Suffolk and Berks, his sister. Siding with Leiter was Mrs. Nanavy Carver Campbell, another sister, of Boston.

The case was adjourned June 16 after three months of litigation.

Woman Reveals College Life

Asks Separate Maintenance From Son Of Wealthy Chicago Family

CONDITIONS ARE ONLY TOO TRUE

By FRED J. WALKER.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Stories of "high life" in American colleges, which have met with a barrage of denials are only too true according to Mrs. Frances May Prowdley Helfrick who is seeking separate maintenance from the son of wealthy Chicago Heighs parents.

Mrs. Helfrick, who described herself in court as a "country girl at heart" entered the University of Illinois from Kaneville in February 1925. Her college career was cut short by marriage and motherhood.

"I met Murray Helfrick in a chemistry laboratory course" she said. "He took me out to a lot of dances and parties. He drank a lot but I didn't drink then and I don't now. He always had liquor.

"The gin parties were staged by the boys without the knowledge of the university. They would drive out to some place far out in the country with girls and lots of liquor. Then they would drink and have petting parties in the automobiles.

Mrs. Helfrick also described all-day picnics, held on Sunday which were apparently innocent but at which "plenty went on."

One confectionery shop near the campus had a dimly lighted back room fitted with booths in which co-eds smoked, drank and put on "necking parties" with their escorts, she said.

"I'm just one of dozens. There are many hasty marriages like mine at the University. Many other cases are hushed up without marriage. Many a girl leaves school in the middle of a semester because she has to."

Lucien Le Long Paris coutourier caused the "stylish stouts" to flutter with anticipation today following his announcement of a "kinetic theory" for clothes.

This theory or law if Le Long knows anything about it, has to do with movement in clothes by which your plump lady in her early forties could with a swish of her apparel look relatively slender."

"Next season" said Le Long "women will achieve true slenderness. It will be due to the way the costumes are cut."

The last of Uncle Sam's injured in the Spanish-American war has been treated and will be dismissed from the hospital shortly.

During the famous charge up San Juan Hill a little boy beat lustily on a drum until an enemy bullet cut him down. He dropped his drum after the first shocks of a Spanish shell but he continued his advance up the hill.

The boy hero was George H. Riley, now president of the Musicians club. He submitted to operation in the St. Augustana hospital here for the removal of the momento.

Riley went to Cuba with the old "Dandy First" the First Illinois Infantry. During preparations for the charge up San Juan Hill he was thrown in with the ninth Illinois Infantry.

As the Ninth neared Block House No. 10 the enemy unleashed a barrage with renewed fury and Riley was struck by a fragment of an exploding shell. He continued to advance in the first line however and with Gen. "Joe" Wheeler he was able to enter the block house through a small aperture made by an American shell.

Gen. Wheeler and Riley then opened the Block House gates to admit other Americans. Riley was one of the men who hauled down the Spanish flag before Gen. Wheeler ordered him to a field hospital.

Suitor: I can give your daughter a good home and keep her in clothes.

Dad: You had better take her then. I give her a good home, but I can't keep her in clothes.

ASPINWALL WOMAN KILLED IN CRASH; TWO DRIVERS HELD

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Marion McSwaney, 24 years old, of Fifth street, Aspinwall, was killed when two automobiles collided at North street and Kenneth avenue Sunday night. Five other persons in the two machines escaped injury. The car in which Mrs. McSwaney was a passenger was driven by William A. Whitehead of 7008 Idlewild street, Pittsburgh. Other passengers in Whitehead's car were Miss Eleanor Popplerton of Sharpsburg, a sister of Mrs. McSwaney, and John McSwaney, her husband. The second machine was driven by Norman Peake, 28 years old of Valley Camp. Miss Sarah Wayne of Springdale was riding with Peake.

Whitehead and Peake were arrested charged with reckless driving.

WOMAN, TWO SONS HELD FOR STEALING 100 GALLONS WINE

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 30. — Said to have broken into a warehouse near Masontown last week and stolen two 50-gallon barrels of 25-year-old blackberry wine and a quantity of choice bonded liquors, Mrs. Sadie Altman and her two sons, Frank and Thomas, were lodged in the Fayette county jail. According to county detectives, they rolled the barrels of wine to their homes nearby and were selling it in bottles.

Mrs. Altman was released on $1,000 bond and the two men are being held in default of $2,000 bond. The liquor was owned by William Graham, Fayette county treasurer.

SCALDS KILL CHILD AS SOUP POT UPSETS

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Nov. 30.—As the result of burns which he received when he overturned a soup kettle in his home near here last Saturday, Wilbert Robb, three years old, son of Wilbert Robb, died late Sunday night.

Big Game Hunters Ready To Invade Forests Of State

Big Game Season To Open Wednesday For Fifteen Day Period

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 30.—Big game hunters by the thousands will take to the woods tomorrow when the deer season opens in the state for a 15-day duration. Reports at the headquarters of the state game commission here have indicated that plenty of the fleet animals will be on hand for the gunners with a shooting eye.

Activities of the game commission since the season closed last December 15, have helped to preserve the abundance of deer for killing during the next two weeks. The commission was successful in breaking up several professional gangs of "pot" hunters, especially in the Clinton, Centre and Potter county regions.

Every county of the state will be open during this season, it was announced by the commission. For the first time in years deer have become plentiful in some sections of the state. Deer wandering away from game preserves have been seen in the most populous parts of the state and there are few sections, except close to Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, where deer have not been seen occasionally.

Killing of does will be permitted for four days in parts of three counties, where the animals have become so plentiful that the farmers have complained of their damaging crops. Parts of Celarfield, Monroe and Huntingdon counties will be open to shooting does on Decemebr 17, 18, 19 and 20. A special license of $5 will be necessary to shoot them. As in former years only single shot shells may be used in the hunting of deer.

The same horn requirements for bucks as were in effect in 1925 will be enforced this season. Only those with a well developed "Y" may be killed. The state commission has made every effort to have the young bucks spared and has instructed the game protectors to check carefully the horns on small deer.

Although few kills of bear have been reported, John Truman, executive secretary of the game commission, says he believes the animals are plentiful and that the number killed this year will equal or surpass that of other seasons. A great many hunters await the opening of the deer season and then hunt both deer and bear at the same time. Bear are seldom seen in the state except in the north central portion, among the most rugged mountains. The bear season opened the middle of November.

Sealer Is Given New Quarters In City Building

New and more comfortable quarters have been provided for W. A. Brown, city and county sealer of weights and measures. His former office was located on the second floor and to the rear part of the police patrol barn.

This morning however his effects were moved to the office of the plumbing inspector on the second floor of the city building which he will occupy jointly with the plumbing inspector. Since the city ceased to have a poor district functioning this place became available It will be much more satisfactory in handling the business of this important office.

The room vacated by Mr. Brown will now be used by the police department for storage purposes.

Business Program For Kiwanis Club

Program for the meeting of the Kiwanis club, to be held Wednesday, December 1, is in the hands of the Business Standards Committee as this is the "Business Standards" Week.

Members of the club will be presented by the committee. H. Lee Marvin, will speak on "Clean Competition and Honest Labels on Merchandise;" Charles W. Grafton, will take as his subject, "Truth in Advertising and Elimination of Fraud;" and Charles W. Read will speak on "Co-operation Between Employer and Employee," and "Service Rather than Accumulation of Wealth."

These subjects were suggested by the District Committee, and will be of large interest to all members.

As late as the 1840s Boston had an ordinance which required on behalf of public health that baths should be taken only when prescribed by a physician.

Mayor Says Police Will Undertake New Charity Work

Mayor William H. Dunlap and his police force, have inaugurated a new movement, which is expected to prove of much benefit to the needy people of this city.

It is simply this, that the police department will undertake the distribution of old clothing to needy persons of the community, when the same is brought to them at the police station.

This action is not for the purpose of interfering with other charity work, but for the purpose of seeing that really needy persons coming to the attention of the police department and there are numerous cases of this kind, have their needs supplied and without cost.

The police department will undertake to show the donor that the proper use of the clothing has been made in each instance.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Maybe This Is Our Lawrence Co. Bear?

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 30.—The Jack and Len Ellis, of Mercer, were driving along the Sharon-Greenville road one day last week they encountered a bear strolling along the road. They estimated that it weighed 175 pounds. It is said that the animal had been in that neighborhood for some weeks and had been seen by several persons.

During the summer several deer were seen in the county, and a wildcat was reported to have been killed near New Hamburg recently.

There is no likelihood, however of this becoming a big game county, as conditions are not such as to induce the animals to come into the county in any numbers.

Council Directs Engineer To Make Street Inspection

To Investigate Manner In Which Repaving Is Being Done On Mercer Street

Council today passed Councilman William T. Burns' motion instructing City Engineer Frank Miller to inspect and "see that Mercer street paving is replaced and left in as good condition as it was before the New Castle Water Company laid a new main between North street and Washington street." The company plans to continue the main northward several block, for the purpose of providing more water for the business district.

Burns' resolution came on the heels of complaints that councilmen received, the allegations being that the excavation was not being filled properly.

Councilman Davies said he would offer a second to the resolution, but he wished to add that "the matter has already received the attention of Mr. Genkinger".

Mr. Genkinger said that of all the concerns the New Castle Water Company refills excavations better than any and they try to make a good job of projects.

The motion was passed after which a contract between the city and Elder & Ferry for construction of the Gibson street sanitary sewer was approved.

Declares Men Make Best Cooks

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Men are more interested in food and therefore make the best cooks, declares Norman Venner, novelist, in "The London Soroptimist," official organ of the Soroptimist Club.

"No woman should ever be a cook, as men manage much better, being more interested in things to eat," says Mr. Venner, who contends that no woman should ever be captain of a ship, as the sea is too masculine an element. No woman, he goes on, should ever be in charge of an automatic road drill, or a steam crane, or a battery of howitzers: no woman should ever be a soldier, sailor, tinker, tramp, professional wrestler, driver or boilermaker. But apart from these the world of human effort is open to the woman worker.

"And I for one," says the author, "only hope they will get on with it in large numbers."

Avoid Dizzy Spells

Never well. Always tired and fagged out. Beauty tossed away by neglect. To be beautiful and to keep youth the system must be free from poisonous backwash of constipation which often causes dizzy spells. For 20 years, Dr. F. M. Edwards gave his patients, in place of calomel, a compound of vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Known by their olive color. They free the system of poisons that ravage health, energy, beauty.

You need never have sallow complexion, dull eyes, coated tongue, throbbing headaches—all signs that your bowels are clogged, liver is torpid. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly. They act smoothly and without griping. . . How much better you'll feel and look! Everywhere wise men and women who know the value of good health take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. All druggists, 15c, 30c and 60c.

Miners Body Found Badly Mangled On Railroad Tracks

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 30.—Finding of the body of John Lesko, 37, of Melcroft, near here, led to belief today that the miner was killed while attempting to alight from a freight train upon which he was riding from work along the Indian Creek railroad line.

The body, badly crushed, was found by the tracks near his home. Lesko recently moved here from Homestead, Pa.

MINERS VICTIMS OF SWINDLERS

(International News Service)

LANSFORD, Pa., Nov. 30.—Miners in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania have been the victims recently of various swindle games, especially in the purchase of alleged diamonds to be used for Christmas presents, according to police from a number of cities.

Money making machines, a bargain which has looked good to the mining class, have been snatched up by the victims of clever salesmen, according to reports. But the "diamond salesman" selling his goods at ten per cent of the real value to "those who can keep their mouth shut and know a real bargain," had the most success.

While some publicity has been given to the swindling deals, it is reported that many victims have hesitated to report their losses because they did not want to admit they were swindled.

Authorities investigating the swindling deals have declared that many of the diamonds used in the region have been stolen. Also it has been learned that many fake stones have been sold. In many cases substantial payments were made on the purchases and in some instances cash payments in full were demanded.

At Shamokin one miner was defrauded of $1,500 in cash, having purchased a box of glass which he thought was a collection of valuable gems.

One man, believed to be at the head of the swindling ring, was arrested at Pottsville and is being held by police pending an investigation.

It isn't mere uncertainty that makes courtship thrilling. In this day of easy divorce, matrimony is just as uncertain.

Bridenbaugh And Gardner Give Some Impressions Of Great Army-Navy Game

By "BUGS" WALTHER.

Chicago, that "toddling town" of a few years ago went wild over the Army-Navy grid classic, was the way Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh and Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner expressed themselves Monday when interviewed on the trip to the Windy City.

The local high school officials were a part of the 110,000 rabid football enthusiasts who jammed their way into the monster Chicago stadium for the annual service game. The spectacle of that day and crowd will live long in the memories of all who participated.

Bridenbaugh and Gardner departed from New Castle early Thursday evening and arrived in Chicago on Friday morning. The trip to the mid-west metropolis was made via the Pennsylvania railroad.

Arriving in Chicago the men quartered at the Virginia hotel and then went out to do the town as they put it. Everywhere that we went we were greeted very cordially by the citizens. In the stores, theatres, hotels and restaurants the people of Chicago seemed to have caught the spirit of the occasion and they proved a generous lot. One could hardly get lost in Chicago due to the fact that everyone seemed to realize the vastness of the mobilized army of grid fans on hand for the grid battle and information as to which street and which car was forthcoming in a very fluent manner.

Friday afternoon the New Castle men attended the stadium dedication exercises presided over by Vice President Charles G. Dawes. Huge amplyfying horns, 20 in number made every word of the Vice President audible. The crowd that gathered Friday for the memorial service was mammoth, but it was not to be compared to the crowd that gathered Saturday for the football game. The service with the Army and Navy drills was mighty impressive.

Get Lift to Stadium.

Early Saturday afternoon while we were on our way to the stadium for the game we stopped a Chicago policeman and asked how to get to the arena. The officer in a most gracious manner stopped a passing motorist and asked him if he would carry us to the game and the motorist obliged with the necessary lift, showing in part the very generous attitude of the citizens of Chicago to the visitor.

Arriving at the stadium the local men were ushered into their seats by Culver Military boys imported for the occasion. Bridenbaugh and Gardner had seats in the eighth row near the northern end of the stadium on the Army side of the field.

The early part of the afternoon preceding the game was spent in various maneuvers by the Army and Navy drill squad and this proved highly interesting to the average fan who had hertofore not seen the drills.

A real thrill was occasioned when the two teams lined up for the kick-off. A death like silence gripped the stadium as the teams prepared for their gruelling struggle. The first quarter and part of the second quarter was all Army flavor, said Bridenbaugh, but the Naval machine climbed into action near the close of the second quarter and things happened very rapidly. The lead see-sawed back and forth whipping the crowd into a state of frenzy.

The biggest thrill of the entire game according to the local men came in the third quarter when the Naval Academy team one touchdown on the wrong side of the ledger came through with the marker that again deadlocked the count. The demonstration that greeted the Navy touchdown was one of the greatest in the history of the sporting world. The volume of noise from the throats of 100,000 persons was too monsterous to even imagine. The din was deafening.

As to the many interesting sidelights of the game between halves the Army and Navy participated in a "Sham Battle," the Army men had a small tank mounted on an automobile chassis while the Navy appeared on the field with a small destroyer mounted in similar fashion. After several minutes of maneuvering the Navy destroyer chased the Army tank from the field.

About mid-way of the third quarter a novel stunt was pulled off. The referee had declared time-out from one end of the stadium there arose a small sized airplane with a man dangling from a rope. The plane hovered over the stadium for several minutes at a high altitude and then swooped down toward the field, within several hundred feet of the field the man dropped from the fast moving plane and it looked for all the world as if he would drop into the playing field and be crushed to pieces, but a parachute fastened to his back opened when he had descended about half way to the earth, he drifted toward the end of the stadium. For a time it appeared as if he would drop into the crowd but a gust of wind carried him over the edge of the concrete wall and he disappeared. "The gave the crowd a thrill" said Gardner.

Between halves Vice President Dawes who had viewed the first part of the game from the Navy side of the field crossed over to his box on the Army side amid a great ovation from the multitude gathered for the biggest football game in the history of Chicago.

Some idea of the monster crowd that witnessed the game last Saturday can be taken from the fact that there are only four cities in the entire state of Pennsylvania with a population that could approach the gathering. The stadium following the game was a wild scene of disorder as the Army and Navy claimed their favorites. The game ended a tie at 21-21 and every one seemed perfectly satisfied with the result.

"It was the best football game that I have ever seen" said Bridenbaugh, and Gardner was also unanimous in his praise of the struggle. It was a spectacle that has never before been equalled. The crowd on hand for the game was the largest that has ever viewed competitive sport in history.

The local men left Chicago late Saturday night and arrived in New Castle at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, tired but declaring that they would not have missed the game for anything.

Wife beaters are few now. It's so easy to slip a little ethyl into a brute's bottle of bootleg.

"Moon Farming" Simply A Myth

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The moon may affect lovers and cause the tides, but "moon farming" is pure moonshine, department of agriculture experts declare, thus exploding another tradition.

The supposed effect on certain farm activities done by the "dark" or the "light," or some other phase of the moon, finds no substantiation among the scientists. They say that the moon has no influence on weather or soil, and even the light of the full moon is not nearly intense enough to have any effect on plant growth or diseases.

Prince Edward Is Lance Corporal

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—When one name is reached on the roll call at the weekly parade of the First Battalion of France, the following notation regularly is made:

"Lance-Corporal the Prince of Wales absent with leave at the court of His Majesty the King of England."

The Prince was made an "anspessade" or lance-corporal when he visited the French military school at Saint-Cyr on October 29 last. This rank exists only in the Saint-Cyr Battalion and only two other persons have been granted it since the cadet school was founded by Napoleon. The word "anspessade" is derived from the Italian "lancia spezzala" originally meaning a non-commissioned officer in a foot regiment.

Marriage and Birth Rates Show Decrease

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 30. — Figures gathered by the bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Health Department show that both the marriage and birth rates are on the decline in Pennsylvania. The number of divorces on the other hand seems to be increasing the bureau's figures disclose.

The highest marriage rate recorded in this state in recent years was in 1920 during the post war boom. Then the rate was 9.6 per thousand or 83,865 total while the lowest rate was in 1918 when 61,737 marriages were recorded for a rate of 7.2 per 1,000.

Since 1918 the curve for marriage licenses has shown an upward and downward fluctuation. That year it reached its lowest point in recent years and the next year it advanced to 8.8 or a total of 76,446 and in 1920 a new high was reached. In 1921 the rate slumped off to 8.2 for a total of 72,891 and the year following it dropped still lower to 7.6 with 68,567 licenses granted. During 1923 the rate increased to 8.5 when 77,666 permits were issued and then in 1924 it dropped back to 7.9 with 73,036 licenses being issued.

Figures on divorce are only available for the last three years. In 1923, 7,542 were granted or a rate of .83 per 1,000 and the next year the rate was .90 with 8,271 and last year the number was 8,027 with a rate of .86.

The birth rate like the marriage rate varies from year to year but with a tendency to show a decline on the whole.

The figures include:

1918—22,170 total — 25.7 rate per 1,000.
1919—207,685 total — 24.0 rate per 1,000.
1920—220,462 total — 25.1 rate per 1,000.
1921—229,452 total — 25.8 rate per 1,000.
1922—214,348 total — 23.8 rate per 1,000.
1923—217,235 total — 23.8 rate per 1,000.
1924—223,100 total — 24.2 rate per 1,000.
1925—215,120 total — 23.1 rate per 1,000.

In the last five thousand years man has invented new ways to do almost everything except go to the dogs.

Through a special contrivance it gains in tonal qaulity and beauty of delivery. It is equivalent to five violins in an orchestra.

Rev. Haverfield Addresses Pastors At Meeting Monday

Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, pastor of Westfield Presbyterian church, was the speaker at the meeting of the New Castle Ministerial Association Monday morning in the Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Haverfield read an excellent paper on "The Psalm of Thanksgiving," which was especially well received and favorably commented upon.

Rev. Ralph McConnell, a returned missionary from Siam, who is visiting at the home of his parents near East Brook, was present and gave an instructive talk of the conditions now existing in that country. He said that the residents of Siam were a peace loving people and always welcomed missionaries to their country.

Rev. Harry Maitland of Winfield, Kansas, who is conducting evangelistic services in the Mahoning M. E. church, was a special visitor.

Fifi Widener To Wed Second Time

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30—Mrs. Josephine Fifi Widener Leidy will become the bride of Milton Holden, socially prominent broker, next Thursday. This was confirmed today by the divorcee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Widener of Elkins Park.

"Some time on Thursday Mrs. Fifi Widener Leidy will wed Mr. Milton Holden," said the formal announcement.

"Somewhere," was the response to inquiries where the ceremony would take place.

Mrs. Leidy recently obtained a divorce from Carter Randolph Leidy of this city, with whom she eloped in 1920 when she was only 17. Her husband was a 20-year-old freshman at the University of Pennsylvania.

SEARCH RIVER FOR MISSING MAN

(International News Service)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 30.—With all hope of finding Dr. Walter H. South, missing Morgantown businessman alive apparently abandoned, veteran rivermen today searched the Monongahela river in the belief that the body may have become lodged in a crag on the banks or was being held under water by a snag.

A reward of $100 for the recovery of the body has been offered by Dr. D. H. Courtney, Dr. South's business associate.

Dr. South was believed to have plunged to his death in the river while driving a borrowed automobile, which was later recovered from the water.

"THE EAGLE OF THE SEA" ANOTHER LLOYD MASTERPIECE

When Frank Lloyd made the "Sea Hawk" the motion picture world acknowledged his greatness as a producing director. It was classed as one of the big pictures of the motion picture world, and now Lloyd has come through again with "The Eagle of the Sea", in which Florence Vidor and Ricardo Cortez are starred.

It's a clever picture, this "Eagle of the Sea". One that takes you back to New Orleans of the old days, when crinoline and hoopskirts were in style and pirates still infested the seas. And of course with all the action running through it, there is a beautiful little love tale.

Three acts of vaudeville in addition to the feature picture and the comedy, make up the bill. Ford and Rogers in "Hey Hey" have a flock of wise cracks that get a laugh. The Tip Top Duo barber shop their way through a lot of good songs and get off some impersonations at which you'll laugh. Three White Kuhns, in an instrumental trio complete the bill.

Dentists Gather In Pittsburgh For Discussion

Odontoligical Society Of Western Pennsylvania Has Meeting

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 30. — With nearly 1,000 practicing dentists in attendance, members of the Odontological Society of Western Pennsylvania today discussed plans for the establishment of a group of districts of the organization, each group to hold periodic meetings as chapters of the larger body, at the annual convention here.

A large number of associate members of the society from West Virginia and Ohio also were present, and with active members attended a series of clinics at the opening sessions yesterday.

Election of officers featured the opening sessions, the following being named:

Dr. C. W. Hagan, president; Dr. Willard Flint, vice president; Dr. Leslie Waddil, secretary; Dr. S. S. Haudenshield, assistant secretary; Dr. C. R. Garmen, treasurer, and Dr. W. F. Swanson, editor of the official bulletin.

Newly elected officers today outlined plans for the division of the society into 13 district groups, each of which, it is planned, is to hold its own sessions and clinics, meeting annually with the larger group.

Regent Presents Lon Chaney In A New Film "Shadows"

Lon Chaney is one of the most popular screen actors in the world and this is true of New Castle too. New Castle fans like Chaney and always turn out in large numbers to see him. Yielding to popular demand the Regent Theatre is presenting today and for three days the latest of Lon Chaney's pictures "Shadows". This picture is based on the famous story of "Ching, Ching, Chinaman" and is an unusually strong one. It gives Lon Chaney a chance to show his unusual ability and will please everyone who see Chaney and his acting.

In addition to Lon Chaney in "Shadows", Buster Brown in "Buster's Prize Winner", a fine comedy will be shown. There is also a fine News Reel and a Screen Song. Come to the Regent and see Lon Chaney.

What Happened When Santa Forgot Three Pretty Dolls

It Was Necessary For Mrs. Santa To Deliver Them, Because She Had Made Just Enough To Go Round— She Had To Drive Blitzen, A Lame Reindeer

The Garden of Happiness.
Top of the World,
North Pole.

My Dear Friends:—

It will soon be time for me to start for New Castle and things are about ready for the long journey over the snowy treetops and roofs to find the waiting chimneys and the little empty stockings.

Such a busy day as it has been—with the Brownies finishing the packing and Mrs. Santa Claus sewing buttons on the last doll's dress and tying the last hair ribbon, and smoothing the last curl! But everything is ready. The sleigh is packed from top to bottom, so full that it seems as if I could never squeeze myself in. There are tops and drums and Jack-in-the-boxes, and steam engines, and hundreds of dolls, and barrels of chocolate drops; and peppermint canes are hanging from the back.

I told you in yesterday's letter that I would tell you a joke on Mrs. Santa Claus. Maybe after you have read this you will think the joke is on me.

It was last year and the reindeer were harnessed and prancing—Dasher and Dancer and Donner and Blitzen and the rest. The sleighbells were ringing gaily and I jumped in and took the reins.

"Good-bye, mother," I called to Mrs. Santa Claus, who stood in the door to watch the sleigh start. "Anything I can bring you from the city, dear?"

"I think I need new pair of spectacles," replied Mrs. Santa Claus. "My eyes are growing dim with so much sewing. If the stores are open when you finish tonight just bring me a stronger pair of glasses."

"I will. Good-bye!" shouted I. With a dash and a jingle of bells the reindeer jumped and started; and Mrs. Santa Claus went in to sit in her rocking chair by the fire and dose.

Santa's Workshop Still.

The workshop was very still. Christmas eve, you know, is the only time in the whole year when the workmen in the Garden of Happiness may rest; so the little Brownies who paint the sleds and nail the doll houses, and test the steamboats, were curled up in heaps on all the benches fast asleep and snoring. The candy kettles were polished and hung in a row on the kitchen wall. Mrs. Santa Claus sat and rocked by the fire and thought of all the dolls she had dressed.

"There were 400 with silk dresses," she said to herself, "and 200 with blue. There were 500 baby dolls, and I never finished dressing them until today. I wonder if Santa packed them all. I must go and see."

So Mrs. Santa Claus lighted a candle and went out to the sewing-room and peered about in every corner. There were piles of silk and velvet and satin ribbon all over the floor, but oh!—there sat three dolls; a baby doll, a doll in pink and a doll in blue. Yes, I had forgotten them.

"What shall I do? What shall I do?" cried Mrs. Santa Claus, looking out of the window to see if I were anywhere in sight but I was not. "We counted them all, and there were just enough to go around," said Mrs. Santa Claus to herself. "Three little girls will have no dolls on Christmas morning. I shall have to go with them myself," said she.

Mrs. Santa Gets Busy.

Out in the barn there was just one reindeer standing in his stall. It was Blitzen, who had a lame foot, so he could not take the long journey with the others. He was contentedly munching reindeer moss; but Mrs. Santa Claus tucked the dolls under her arm, put on her little red shawl, tied her cap strings tighter and hurried out to the barn.

"Come on, Blitzen!" she said, as she saddled him and jumped on his back. We must go as fast as ever we can after Santa Claus. He has left three dolls behind."

So Blitzen dropped his moss and they started. Over the woods and the fields and the fences they dashed, so fast that the wind was left behind. They must have looked very funny, indeed, for Mrs. Santa Claud had forgotten to take off her apron, and her cap was all awry; but on they hurried. And, when they came to the towns, Blitzen stopped at every room, that Mrs. Santa Claus might look down the chimney; but I had always been there first, and the stockings were filled and the dolls were waiting.

"We counted them all," Mrs. Santa Claus kept saying to herself. "Some one will need a doll——" And, sure enough, she came to a very wee house, and there was a stocking hung, but there was only an apple in it—nothing else. So Mrs. Santa Claus dropped the beautiful doll that was dressed in pink silk into the stocking and started on once more.

A Little Girl Gladdened.

Presently they came to another house, and when Mrs. Santa Claus looked down the chimney she saw no stocking at all hanging by the fireplace, and there was even no fire. There was nothing in the room but a table and a broken chair and a bed, where a little girl—so thin and pale—lay sleeping. And Mrs. Santa Claus dropped the doll in the blue silk dress right down into the little girl's arms and hurried on again.

When they had come to the very end of the town, Mrs. Santa Claus saw a little girl standing out in the street. She had a bundle of papers to sell, and no one had seen her, because she was so small, and she was waiting out in the cold and snow. Mrs. Santa Claus dropped the doll down to the little girl and then turned Blitzen toward home again.

It was almost Christmas morning when they reached the barn, and, oh! they were very tired. When I came back with my empty sleigh and the new spectacles, I found Mrs. Santa Claus fast asleep in her rocking chair by the fire.

"Poor mother," said I, "she's been sewing all night and that's too much!"

And Mrs. Santa Claus woke up, but she never told about the three dolls until yesterday—so she hadn't had use for her spectacles and I had worried so much on account of fearing she had been waiting for them and here I found she had not been reading or sewing, but had been out in the world helping me spread gladness.

And now, Good night, dear children. I write you tomorrow from The Garden of Happiness, Top of the World.

Your loving,
SANTA.

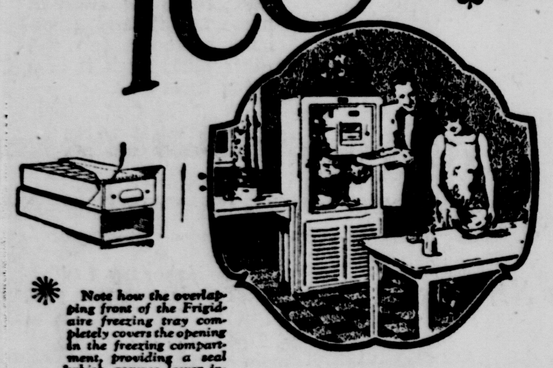
FACTS
This is one of the reasons why there are more Frigidaires in use than all other electric refrigerators combined. Additional reasons are covered in other advertisements.



Note how the overlapping front of the Frigidaire freezing tray completely covers the opening in the freezing compartment, providing a seal which assures lower inside temperatures and quicker freezing.

ONE reason for Frigidaire's overwhelming popularity is the fact that it freezes more ice, by actual weight, than other electric refrigerators of the same size.

The Frigidaire freezing trays are self-sealing. The white enameled fronts of the ice trays completely overlap the tray openings, thus sealing the intense cold of the frost coil within the freezing compartment. Frigidaire freezes ice quickly and solidly, regardless of room temperatures.

Long ago, Frigidaire discarded the brine tank in favor of the more efficient frost coil. The frost coil assures simpler, quicker temperature control, which is so accurate and stable that it never has to be adjusted once it has been properly set.

Frigidaire is superior in ice-freezing capacity, food storage space, low operating cost and quiet operation. Frigidaire offers unequaled sturdiness of construction and beauty of design. Frigidaire offers a permanent and thoroughly trained and established service organization. It is the only electric refrigerator guaranteed by General Motors.

I've got a half-nelson on jimmy-pipe joy

I TOOK P. A. for better or worse . . . and found it better! Better than anything I had ever smoked. That's my story and I'm going to stick to it. When siren-brands try to flirt, I just give them the icy stare. I know what I like in a pipe, and what I like is Prince Albert!

The instant you break the seal on the tidy red tin and get that wonderful fragrance of real tobacco, you know you are in for a pipe-treat. Your mouth fairly waters for a taste of tobacco that smells as good as that. Then you load up and light up—ah! . . .

Cool. Sweet. Fragrant. Old words, I'll admit, but you get a brand-new idea of how much they can mean in a pipe-bowl packed with P. A. Maybe you've always thought such pipe-pleasure was "just around the corner." Try a load of Prince Albert and turn that corner!

Get a half-nelson on the pipe-joy that's due you. Before you do another thing, buy a tin of Prince Albert and tuck a neat wad into your pipe. Notice how mild it is, yet how delightfully full-bodied. Here's a smoke that you can pal around with, morning to midnight.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

NERVE TONIC CREDITED WITH PATIENT'S SPEEDY RECOVERY

Woman Felt Bloated After Eating; Heart Fluttered and Palpitated; Hardly Got Breath; Only Time Free From Pain Was When Asleep. Takes World's Tonic; Recovers Quickly.

Susie Foster, 214 E. Reynolds street, city, says, "My main trouble was that my food didn't digest right and this made me about as nervous as I could be. I couldn't sit still for fifteen minutes. I had pains in every part of my body and about the only time I was free from pain was when I was asleep.

"Gas formed after eating and caused a bloated, stuffy feeling. At times my heart fluttered and palpitated until I thought it was going to jump out of me. I could hardly get my breath.

"So many people recommended World's Tonic that I decided to try it. Its effect was very soothing. I could notice an improvement right from the first dose. As I continued to take it I continued to get better and now I don't feel bloated after eating. I have a good appetite, too. I am going to continue taking World's Tonic as my case is of long standing and I do not want a recurrence of my trouble."

World's Tonic contains concentrated nourishment. It feeds while it soothes raw, edgy, starving nerves and many remarkable results have been obtained from its use, as is shown in the statement of scores who live right here in this city.

Today thousands of people are still suffering from broken down nerves caused by the great flu epidemic. World's Tonic offers splendid treatments. World's Tonic costs only $1.00 for a large bottle at McKee's Kut Rate, Smith's, Paisley's and Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc, and all other reliable Druggists.

Legislators-Elect Seeking Good Seats

Officials Of Both Houses Flooded With Requests From New Members

HARRISBURG, Nov. 30.—Request for "good seats" are being made by members of the Legislature which will convene here January 4, but the officers of the two houses in charge of such matters are disposed to go slow in the matter. As soon as Thanksgiving day passes the members- elect start to "get busy," and this year has been like others.

Chances are the seating schedule will not be worked out until well toward Christmas. It is one of the problems attending the assembling of the lawmakers that gives almost as much trouble as making up committees. Legislators are also writing here for advice of the Legislative Reference Bureau in drafting bills, an unusual proportion of which deal with election matters.

Governor and Mrs. Pinchot will give two more dinners during this week, one on Tuesday and one on Friday, with plans for the same during the following week. Members of the various boards and their wives, or husbands, as the cases may be, will be guests. Trustees of State prisons will be guests during one of the coming dinners.

The question of the right of a taxi owner to paint his car a color distinctive of another service, even when he employs a color in his own title, is to be argued here tomorrow before the Public Service Commission in the complaint of the Yellow Cab company, of Philadelphia, against Frank L. Leinhauser, trading as the Darby Yellow Cab company. The routes of the services apparently conflict in the vicinity of Philadelphia.

Brokers Company Buys Railroad

(International News Service)

AKRON, Ohio, Nov. 30.—Otis & Co., brokers, today purchased for $1,360,000 the 75,000 shares of common stock of the Akron, Canton & Youngstown railroad, offered at auction by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. The stock, which represents one half the capital stock of the railroad, was pledged to Goodyear as surety for a loan of $3,000,000 by F. A. Seiberling, former president of the Goodyear Company, at the time of the company's reorganization, in 1921.

The brokers were said to have been acting for a Cleveland or an Akron capitalist.

Announce World War Adjusted Compensation Certificates Increase

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—World war adjusted compensation certificates will be worth $215,688,616 in cash on January 1, to over 2,500,000 veterans, the U. S. Veterans Bureau announced today.

Certificates in force for two years have an initial loan value of about 8½ per cent. Policies maturing for loan collateral purposes during the year will represent a value of $262,538,344.

In the subsequent three years the total of 3,048,933 compensation certificates now in force will have the following loan values:

1928—$370,910,606.
1929—$482,048,654.
1930—$590,983,687.

The certificates will increase annually in loan value reaching a maximum at maturity of $3,137,658,062, at which time they will be redeemed at face value by the government.

Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans, Bureau, pointed out that the government will not loan money on the policies prior to cashing them at maturity, but that banks or trust companies chartered by federal or state governments have the authority to make advances with the policies as collateral.

Federal laws provide for nominal interest rates and other features protecting both the banks and the owners of the certificates.

Holders of certificates which were approved by the government on or before January 1, 1925, will be entitled to use the policies as collateral for loans January 1, 1927. Over two-thirds of the certificates issued were approved prior to 1925, but another million will mature for loan purposes at later dates.

It is expected that government law enforcement agencies will be asked to cooperate with the Veterans Bureau to protect veterans who hold certificates. Officials fear that loans may be made by unauthorized persons who charge exorbitant interest rates, or fraudulently obtain possession of the bonus policies, defrauding the veterans.

Veterans Bureau officials declared that any violations of this character would be prosecuted vigorously.

Veterans have been warned of the danger of losing their policies to unscrupulous persons. The policies will increase rapidly in value after the first few years and advice is being broadcast that it will be a great advantage to the veteran to maintain possession of the certificates until they actually mature and are cashable at the maximum value.

Your HOME Should Come FIRST

What shall I give for Christmas? You ask yourself that question repeatedly just about this time of year — and feel rather panicky at the thought of time-honored tokens such as handkerchiefs or gloves, that may have to be called upon again. To help you, here's a suggestion: make it a family-to-family gift and choose something for the home. Because at Christmas time, more than any other, perhaps, homes should come first

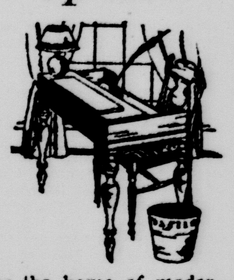
Shop Early for Best Selection

A charming Davenport, like pictured here or either one or both of the chairs that match it would make a wonderful gift for the entire family and in mohair, all three pieces may be had here for $238

Odd Chairs $22 Up. Pie Crust Table $24.

A Note on Desks and their Gift possibilities

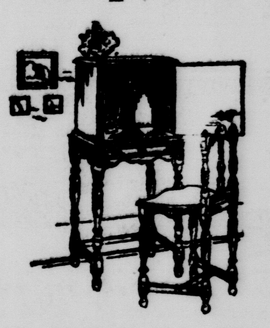
Spinet



For the home of moderate size and temperament, a Spinet desk of Colonial design with a rush-seat Colonial chair offer expressive simplicity $47

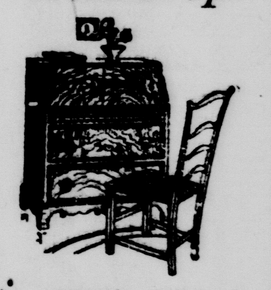
SEPARATE PIECES
At Following Prices
Spinet Desk $35
Desk Chair $12
Vase Lamp $12

Telephone



If someone's arm gets tired holding up the receiver, give her one of these Spanish style Telephone Desks—She'll appreciate it because it is as useful as it is lovely $28

Winthrop



An approved version of the Governor Winthrop desk that's as much at home in an Early American bedroom (or any other kind) as it is in a living room!

This would be an especially nice gift for an especially nice wife or daughter, wouldn't it?
$72

Solid Mahogany Ladder-back chair with rush seat, gift price..... $24

Enduring Charm in Gifts for the Home

During the holidays there's the Christmas tree with its silver stars and tinsel, its colored lights and popcorn strings, to remind us. But after that—what will you have to show that Christmas ever came? What will you have given that someone else might prove a Santa Claus exists? A gay, expensive trinket with no particular meaning? A lovely, lacy something that will be gone before the snow? A pipe to be mislaid tomorrow—or the next day? Or did you give them—and they give you—a cozy fireside chair of "permanent intentions"—a lamp that will go on glowing year after year or a little table or occasional piece that will never wear out?—These are some of the really worth-while gifts that we'll help you find right here—gifts of loveliness that lasts and charm that endures forever!

Small Boy Struck By Car—Another Car Breaks Guard Gates

Charles Wetmore of the Hileman apartments, Wallace avenue and Jefferson street, reported to the police Monday that as he was driving north on Highland avenue at Grant street, his machine struck and knocked to the street, a small boy, Paul Cooney, aged 4, of 318 Locust street, as the child ran in front of his machine.

A man in the car of David Russell, which was coming south on Highland avenue at the time, picked up the boy and he was taken to the Shenango Valley hospital, where it was found that his injuries were not of a serious character.

Tony Cambroto of 710 Canyon street, reported that he was driving south on South Mill street at the P. & L. E. crossing and ran into and broke off the guard gates on the right hand side of the street. As he was stopped, to give his name and address, another car coming north on Mill street ran into and broke off the guard gates on the opposite side of the street. There were no red lights on the gates, according to Mr. Cambroto.

Thomas Cubbison of 424 Sheridan avenue reported Monday that as he was driving south on North Mill street his machine sideswiped and damaged a machine that was parked in front of 17 North Mill street.

Mr. Emery of 1116 Croton avenue reported Monday that he was driving west on Washington street at Jefferson street when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 987-115, which was going south on Jefferson street, ran into his machine. Both cars were damaged.

TAKE TEN YEAR POSTOFFICE LEASE AT EVANS CITY

By GEORGE H. MANNING
Washington Correspondent of The News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30.—The postoffice at Evans City, Butler county, will remain in its present location for at least another 10 years, as the Post Office Department today agreed to re-lease the present quarters, when enlarged and improved, for that length of time.

The present quarters, on the south side of Pittsburgh street, will be leased from Coulter H. Glenn, the lease to date from December 1, or when the required addition and improvements are completed. The lease will include equipment, heat, light, water, safe, power for electric fans, parcel post and postal savings furniture when necessary.

Widow Is Granted Monthly Pension

By GEORGE H. MANNING
Washington Correspondent of The News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Eliza J. Cameron of New Castle, widow of a Civil War veteran, will receive a pension of $50 a month hereafter, with back pay from August 4, the Bureau of Pensions today informed Congressman Harris J. Bixler of Johnsonburg, who helped establish her claim.

Mrs. Cameron is the widow of Cyrus C. Cameron, who served during the Civil War in Company I, Sixth Pennsylvania Heavy Artillery. She was entitled to the increased pension as a result of the act passed by the last Congress and approved by President Coolidge on July 3, providing that in the future all Civil War widows who were the wives of soldiers during the Civil War shall receive $50 a month instead of the $30 they formerly received.

Real Truancy Cases Are Scarce In City Says Truant Officer

Truancy, the old genuine blown in the bottle variety, where a youngster just declared a holiday and went fishing, seems to be on the wane in the New Castle schools, according to Mrs. W. J. Biersmith, attendance officer, of the New Castle schools.

During the month of October there were but 30 real truancy cases in a school system where there are nearly 11,000 students, according to Mrs. Biersmith.

"While there are still many absentees, the cases of plain truancy are diminishing," said Mrs. Biersmith. "We had some 300 absentees in October but of course many of these were caused by sickness, unavoidable absence, and only thirty can be charged to truancy."

"When an absentee is reported, Mrs. Biersmith gets on the job immediately with the result that the percentage is rapidly diminishing. In rare cases it is necessary to bring informations against parents who allow their youngsters to remain out of school. Three days illegal absence draws a sharp warning from Mrs. Biersmith, and three additional days brings an information before an alderman.

"There is one phase of absence in which we need the co-peration of employers," said Mrs. Biersmith. "This is the continuation student. Under the law, working papers must be secured by a boy or girl under 16 who must work for a living, but they must attend continuation school two sessions a week. There is little excuse for absence from this school, save sickness, but we are finding that some of the students are staying out and loafing around the place where they are employed. The employer can aid us materially in this by seeing to it that their continuation student employes are not allowed around the place of business on these days, and insisting that the youngsters attend school."

FALSE ALARM

When box 512 sounded last night, the firemen rushed to Summit and Lutton streets, expecting to find a fire. A search in the district failed to disclose any blaze.

IVO RADIATOR GLYCERINE (DISTILLED)

Point 4 —is harmless to motor car finishes

Play safe with IVO— THE IDEAL ANTI-FREEZE

IF IVO should accidentally be spilled upon the hood or other parts of your car when it is being poured into the radiator, you have nothing to worry about. It will not harm the finish of the finest car.

Motorists are well aware of the fact that volatile anti-freeze mixtures, formerly in common use, are decidedly harmful to motor car finishes — particularly the new lacquer finishes so popular today.

A PROCTER & GAMBLE PRODUCT

IVO Distilled Radiator Glycerine is superior to the ordinary anti-freeze because it—(1) does not evaporate, (2) is non-inflammable, (3) is odorless, (4) will not harm the finish of the finest car, (5) will make your motor operate in Winter at a more uniformly efficient temperature.

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

Plans are underway in the Madison Avenue Christian church for the annual Christmas program to be given in the church. The committee named to be in charge of the entertainment is comprised of the following persons. Mrs. Adda Robison, chairman, Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh, Mrs. A. S. Eberhart, Mrs. J. W. Jones and Mrs. W. G. Wilkins.

In the Mahoning Methodist church, Miss Lolita Williams is chairman of the committee in charge of the Christmas program.

No definite plans have been made in either of the churches for these programs but they will probably be similar to ones given in past years. Dates for these entertainments will be announced later.

RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shin and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Greer and daughters Ruth Inez and Betty Lou and son Bobby of Carnegie, Pa., have returned home after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer of West Madison avenue.

REVIVAL SERVICE

Monday evening Rev. Harry Maitland preached a most inspiring sermon on "Prayer" at the revival meeting in the Mahoning Methodist church. Under this theme Rev. Maitland took up four different phases of the subject, four reasons why prayer is not answered.

The first reason, "Failure to Pray in the Name of Jesus". The second reason, "The Lack of Forgiveness". The third reason, "The Lack of Reconciliation", and the fourth reason, "The Lack of Desire".

These services begin each evening at 7:30. Starting with a song service led by Rev. Maitland. A large attendance was present Monday evening.

SCOUT MEETING

The members of the Eagle Troop Girl Scouts in charge of Miss Helen Wilson had their weekly meeting in the Mahoning school, Monday evening. There was a good attendance of members present and during the evening the second class Girl Scout tests were discussed. Following the meeting the girls had an enjoyable time playing basketball. The next meeting of the troop will be next Monday evening.

ATLANTIC ETHYL GASOLINE—

the real super motor fuel!

FOR the driver who enjoys the thrill of a torrent of power at his command . . . for the man who isn't satisfied with anything less than the utmost in motor performance—Atlantic Ethyl Gasoline is his fuel.

Atlantic Ethyl Gasoline is the ultimate in motor fuels. "Knocks" disappear completely. "Carbon" troubles are ended. Motors which are worn, or have otherwise lost their vim, suddenly regain their vigor and youth when Atlantic Ethyl is used.

It's the combination that makes this fuel so remarkable . . . the new Atlantic Gasoline plus the famous Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound developed by General Motors Research Laboratories. Only three cents more per gallon. Readily obtainable through Atlantic pumps and service stations.

For winter use

Atlantic Ethyl Gasoline embodies the same welcome changes as are made in the regular new Atlantic Gasoline, viz: special refinement of the petroleum elements to enable quick, easy starting and smooth warming up of motor in cold weather.

TRUCK RUNNING WILD DEMOLISHES HOME OF FALLSTON POLICEMAN

BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 30. — The home of Chief of Police A. Plummer Black, of Fallston, near here, was demolished last night when a large truck containing furniture ran wild on the Patterson Heights hill and crashed into the dwelling. Black suffered bruises and lacerations and had a narrow escape from death.

The truck was eastbound from Detroit and it is said that the brakes were burned out at the top of the hill, which is about a mile long. The truck was running fast at the foot of the hill and the driver was unable to steer the heavy machine around a curve in the road.

The truck crashed into the porch of the Black home and went through the hall and into the living room. Chief Black was sitting in a chair. A sewing machine prevented a wall of the dwelling from falling on the police officer. The driver of the truck escaped with slight injuries. The damage is placed at $7,000 to the dwelling.

The Christmas Eve mass in Spain is known as the "Mass of the Cock", and in churches where there is an organ with an adequate number of stops, cocks are imitated and made to crow by the organ at the first stroke of midnight. In some churches even the lowing of cattle is imitated, and other sounds of a stable reminiscent of the humble abode where Christ was born.

Community Club In Wurtemburg

Wurtemburg Women To Establish Library And Community Room In Town

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 30.—Heretofore, all that people have heard about Wurtemburg is that there is an over-abundance of mud there, but now the ladies of that community have taken a hand in civic proceedings and have organized a Community Women's club and there will be a different story. At a preliminary meeting which took place Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. S. Worcester, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Emmit Leibendoffer; vice president, Mrs. Mary French; secretary, Miss Anna Mortensen, and treasurer, Mrs. Victor Koach.

The purpose of the club is to raise money for the erection of a community building, and all donations toward this fund will be greatly appreciated by the members of the club.

On Saturday, December 11, a sale will be held by the club. On the soliciting committee for the sales are Mrs. J. H. Newton, chairman; Mrs. Clarence White, Mrs. Emmet Leibendoffer, Mrs. Landis Roeloff, Mrs. J. Glasser and Miss Aletha Kirker.

The next meeting of the Community club will take place at the home of Mrs. Charles Kettler on Monday evening, December 13, at which time plans will be formulated for a membership drive. The club now has about 32 members.

Mrs. Dambach Hostess To Club Members

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 30.—The regular semi-monthly meeting of members fo the M. M. and M. club was conducted last evening at the home of Mrs. George Dambach on Fourth street. The evening was spent pleasurably with fancywork and social discourse, concluding with the serving of a dainty lunch by the hostess.

December 14 the members will be guests of Mrs. J. D. Kirk at her home on Fifth street on which date a Christmas party is in order.

Members of the club are the Mesdames J. M. Barton, E. B. Baker, P. W. Blocher, George Dambach, Lafe Butler, J. D. Kirk, Elizabeth Kirk, H. R. Johnson, E. B. Yahn, W. W. Seidel, H. Seidel, Frank Blackburn and B. F. Goodrich.

Ashes Of Mrs. Vance Scattered In Grave

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 30.—With impressive ceremony the ashes of Mrs. Ellen Johnston Vance, of California were scattered in the grave of her husband resting in the Wilson cemetery near Darlington, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Rev. Charles Bell of this city officiating.

The deceased was the aunt of W. R. Johnston of this city, and resided in Darlington several years ago before taking up her residence in California. At the time of her husband's death, in California, she had his body placed in the Wilson cemetery, and her last wish before death was that she be cremated and the ashes brought to his grave.

Mrs. Vance was the daughter of the Rev. John Watson Johnston and Sarah Murray Johnston, a family well known in this vicinity, as well as Darlington. Surviving Mrs. Vance are her nephew W. R. Johnston of this city and a brother S. E. Johnston of Lawrence, Kansas, and nephew and niece Emily and Robert Johnston of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. F. D. Buquo Is Surprised Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 30—Mrs. F. D. Buquo of Line avenue was the recipient of a surprise Saturday evening when she found a large number of friends and relatives gathered to do her honor on her birthday, in the Pythian Social club. The guests numbered one hundred and twenty-five and all brought lovely presents to the surprised guest of honor.

Music was furnished throughout the evening by the Pythian band and the Stoner Five of the North Side. Responsible for the clever program during the evening was F. D. Buquo who had as his assistants: Mrs. Della Pifer, Miss Mary Brady, Miss Rosie Robinson, Mrs. Ethel Calahan and many others.

At the conclusion of a pleasant evening a delicious lunch was served. A beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Buquo by Mrs. Callahan who voiced the sentiments of the honor guest's many friends at this time.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

"Sure enough, the sun was setting. Being nothing but a Man, the Master did have some difficulty in making out what Wander was barking about. But just at that moment the clouds that had been shadowing the sun floated on and he understood. Uncle Sol shone more brightly than indeed he had all day long, probably to make the most of the very short time that now remained to him. And the Master, even when he shaded his eyes with his hands, could not bear the glare.

"'Well, my beauty, that settles it!' cried he. 'What you will not do, that you will not, and I don't blame you. Soon the sun will have gone down and the shining track will have vanished, and then you will take to the water. Graze now, if it pleases you, upon the tender grasses.'

"It was a happy half hour the three comrades spent upon the bank, their backs turned to the setting sun. And, by and by it all came about just as Master had foretold. The sun had hidden behind the trees, the blinding glare softened, then disappeared, and the Horse, with the Master upon his back and Wander at his heels, went down by the river.

"'Neeeeee!' whinnied the Horse, and just for fun blew bubbles in the water.

"Soon we shall be at home,' barked Wander. And I know where to dig me a bone!

"'Look, comrades. My brothers watch us. Now they give us greeting! There is my mate awaiting me. Hasten, Coal Black Beauty!'

"Coal Black Beauty looked and trembled and found it hard to obey his lord's command. For down to the river's edge were rushing Men like his Master; camp fires glowed like red eyes in the twilight and from them curled smoke up to the heavens. And the men shouted in strange tongues and waved their arms and ran hither and thither, and the Horse had never seen such a sight and was much afraid. But he mustered his courage and at last stepped upon dry land.

"Then upon his neck he felt a touch, soft as swansdown, and heard a sweet voice saying:—

"'Eat!'."

Next: "The Choice."

The RIM of The LIMELIGHT

GETS HIS WISH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—"America is too cold' said Giovanni Roma as he arrived in this country aboard the Italian liner Duilio, "and I'd like to get back to sunny Italy as soon as possible." And immigration authorities at this port agreed with him. Roma was a stowaway aboard the ship although he protested that he boarded the vessel at Naples in order to see a friend off and then fell asleep in the cabin. He woke up two hours after the ship had sailed. The immigration men here say that Giovanni is going to get his wish.

GAMBLING DEBT BECAME FORTUNE.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 30.—Two hundred dollars is not a great deal of money but when it has its possibilities, especially when invested in Atlantic City lots at least Benjamin Leary proprietor of the Philadelphia Turf club thinks so. Three years ago Edward and Fred Anderson, both of New York city, gave Levy a tenth interest in some lots they owned in this city in payment of a $200 gambling debt. Now the lots are worth $59,500 and Levy is trying to collect his tenth interest in a suit before Chancellor Robert H. Ingersoll. The Andersons don't believe he can do it least they are fighting his action on the ground that the contract was made as the result of a gambling debt and cannot be enforced. Counsel have been ordered to submit briefs.

ATTACKS BOARD ON RECORD BUDGET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—When the Democratic Board of Aldermen ratified without change the record 1927 city budget of $474,893,000 as submitted by the Board of Estimate, the voice of Mrs. John T. Pratt of the Fifteenth district, Manhattan was the only one raised in protest. Mrs. Pratt branded the members as a bunch of "rubber stamps" and claimed that $50,000,000 of the budget could have been eliminated with ease thus effecting a great saving to the taxpayers of the city.

Mrs. Pratt appeared at the meet- of the aldermen with a carefully prepared paper in which she attacked government conditions in the metropolis, charging that overstaffing ond overmanning is general in all the municipal bureaus. This condition she maintained is out of step with movements in the state and nation toward simplification of taxes. In spite of Mrs. Pratt's vehement protest the budget was ratified by a vote of 55 to 3.

CLASS LEAGUE BASKETBALL CARD ANNOUNCED

Radical Change Occurs In Loop

Each Class At Senior High Will Have Two Separate Teams

SCHEDULE OPENS JANUARY 11

Basketball holds center stage at the Senior High School today. With the grid season passed into history the boys are turning their attention to the floor game.

The floor game does not offer the same inducements as football for the simple reason that not so large a number can be accommodated due to the lack of capacity.

Class basketball gives a majority of the students a chance to participate, while the varsity takes care of but ten or twelve men. The class games in past years at Senior High have been well attended.

Practices for the class league teams are few and far between, due to the fact that there is such a large number of teams that it is impossible to hold sessions every day.

William "Bill" Klee, former Geneva College star, and physical director at the Senior High School will have charge of the loop this year. Klee on Monday announced the schedule for this year with a radical change taking place. There will be two teams from each of the three classes this season. The inauguration of mid-semester graduations caused the change from former years.

North Street, Ben Franklin and Mahoningtown are to have a league of their own. It is problematic that a post season series of games for the championship of the City Schools will be played between the winner of the Senior High League and the Junior High circuit.

According to the schedule announced by Klee the league will open play on January 11, and will continue through until Mar. 1.

The schedule:

Jan. 11—Senior A vs. Senior B.
Jan 14—Junior A vs. Junior B.
Jan. 18—Soph A vs. Soph B.
Jan. 21—Senior A vs. Junior A.
Jan. 25—Senior B vs. Soph. B.
Jan. 28—Junior B vs. Soph. A.
Feb. 1—Junior A vs. Soph. B.
Feb. 4—Junior A vs. Junior B.
Feb. 8—Senior B vs. Soph A.
Feb. 11—Senior A vs. Soph. B.
Feb. 15—Senior B vs. Junior A.
Feb. 18—Junior B vs. Soph. B.
Feb. 22—Junior A vs. Soph. A.
Feb. 25—Senior B vs. Junior B.
Mar. 1—Senior A vs. Soph. A.

FORTY REPORT FOR PRACTICE

Allegheny College Has Plenty Of Material For Basketball Squad

MEADVILLE, Pa., Nov. 30.—Coach C. D. Baker called out the Allegheny college basketball squad Monday and a group of about 40 candidates reported in answer to the call. Among the veterans are Captain Rhodes, guard; McClurg, forward; Cibuli, guard; Moon, center; Slaven, center; Thompson, forward and Wescott, guard. The best known freshmen to report are Blair of All-Scholasaic fame in Western Pennsylvania and Myers a forward from Bellefonte academy.

One of the finest schedules and also one of the hardest ever attempted by the Blue and Gold team was announced by Graduate Manager S. S. Townsend last night. In addition to the traditional sectional rivals Allegheny will play two games with the University of Pittsburgh, two with West Virginia and two with Washington and Jefferson college. The complete schedule is as follows:

January 3, Adrian college at Meadville, Pa.
January 6, University of Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh, Pa.
January 11, Washington and Jefferson college at Washington, Pa.
January 12, West Virginia University at Morgantown, W. Va.
January 14, Geneva college at Meadville, Pa.
January 19, Westminster college at New Wilmington, Pa
January 21, Grove City college at Meadville, Pa.
February 5, Thiel college at Greenville, Pa.
February 8, Westminster college at Meadville, Pa.
February 10, Thiel college at Meadville, Pa.
February 12, Washington and Jefferson college at Meadville, Pa.
February 19, West Virginia University at Meadville Pa.
February 25, Geneva college at Beaver Falls, Pa.
March 4, Grove City college at Grove City, Pa.
March 5, University of Pittsburgh at Meadville, Pa.
March 11 open date at Meadville, Pa.

McCallister May Succeed Speaker At Cleveland, O.

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 30.—If public sentiment, dope and all the other elements which habitually attend a baseball discussion have anything to do with the decision, Jack McCallister of Marietta, assistant manager of the Cleveland Indians, will succeed Tris Speaker, who resigned yesterday.

Eddie Collins and George Burns also have been mentioned in connection with the berth.

The Straits Settlement are not usually associated in the public mind with the game of golf, yet the city of Singapore possesses what experts have declared to be one of the most beautiful golf courses in the world.

ARMY-NAVY GAME CROWD NOT THE ULTIMATE PUBLIC MORE CRITICAL; COACHES FEEL IT —SAYS BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

My last afternoon of football for this year—spent at the Army-Navy game in Chicago, leaves me with some very interesting (perhaps) impressions.

For the second time over a span of two short weeks I saw the world's record for football attendance broken. I had watched 92,044 persons file into the giant horse-shoe stadium at Ohio State University, November 13, to watch O. S. U. try futilely to check Michigan's hopes for a claim on the Western College Conference title. Then came this Army-Navy crowd of close to 110,000.

Those 110,000 crowded into the Soldiers' Field stadium. And at least 5,000 others stood on and about the Field Museum, beyond the open end of the stadium, and at other vantage points about the structure to watch the electric score board although it flashed only the brief details of the game—the possession of the ball, the number of downs and yardage to be gained and the scores when made.

And still I can't think that the ultimate has been reached. True, the rear seat holders of the future will have to carry field glasses but that will be the only drawback, as I see it. Soldiers' Field, when completed, will hold 110,000 folks without temporary seats. And enterprising officials can always install some wooden ones.

Public More Critical.

This remarkable growth of football is, however, demanding greater things of the men behind the scenes—the coaches of the various elevens. The increased interest in football is producing a more critical public. Coaches are beginning to feel this.

Coach "Biff" Jones of the Army eleven heeded this critical attitude after the service battle by defending his strategy, which may have deprived the Army of victory instead of the 21 to 21 tie it had to accept.

Choosing his lineup for the most important game of the year—before the greatest crowd ever assembled to watch football players in action, Jones sent in half a dozen second-string men to start the game. The Navy proceeded to run through this lineup for its first touchdown.

Against the regular backfield and linemen sent in later the Navy scored but two touchdowns as against the three registered by the Army.

The game itself showed, however, that straight line football, when rightly played, can hold its own against the aerial game—provided the defensive play of the "old line" team is not neglected. The Navy gained ¾ yardage with open formations and forward passes.

Seventeen of the latter were heaved by the future Admirals and 10 of them completed, netted the Navy a total gain of 110 yards.

The Army tried but two passes and gained 17 yards on these. Incidentally the successful use of the pass those two times indicated practice in the art.

Crowd Checks Fears.

And one more thought. I have less apprehension regarding the possible crushing of all sentiment and sportsmanship through the continued growth of the game since feeling the pulse of the crowd at the service game. It seemed to me that 90 per cent of them were well pleased with the tie score.

"It would have seemed a shame for one team to have departed from that field beaten after the game every man played before that crowd—the biggest in history. It was a fitting ending for a wonderful play," was the consensus of opinion.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

An interesting "off the field" story concerning the 1926 grid season comes from Mexico City, Mo., home of the Military Academy.

It runs something like this.

Two years ago Missouri defeated the Kansas "Jayhawkers" in their annual game 12 to 0. After the game Edgar Lindenmeyer, playing his first year with Missouri, and "Stoney" Wall, then a freshman at Kansas, attended a dinner at the military academy, where they had been schoolmates. Both were asked to speak. Wall, in his address, promised Kansas sweet revenge in 1925 for the defeat—and a year later made good his promise by kicking a field goal in the last minute of play. The goal broke a tie.

Reminded of Wall's promise and its fulfillment Lindenmeyer made the same promise for Missouri in 1926.

Their game the other day ended with Missouri victorious—15 to 0. Lindenmeyer was the outstanding star of the game for his team. Wall, famous as a "toe" specialist, was not called into the game so marked was the superiority of the Missouri eleven.

It seems to be such things as this that help make football a game apart from all others.

Should the breaking up of the "Big Three" really take, the probabilities are that the athletic heads of the three institutions will have to make other rules on which to award their football letters every year.

If I recall correctly the awards now are based on participation in one of the "Big Three" games. At least that is the case at Yale. This year, for instance, the letters were doled out on that basis. The twenty-six men who broke into the Harvard and Princeton battles received their "Y's".

That this system isn't entirely fair is shown by the fact that Bruce Caldwell and Al Foote failed to get their letters. Caldwell, for instance, was the outstanding star of the team early in the season and was scheduled to shine all year. He did some beautiful work as a backfield man when sent in. Foote, a letter man of 1925, played in most of the games but because he did not break into the two contests mentioned did not receive an award for 1926.

The fact that these men were juniors and will still be available next season may have been one of the reasons for failing to inject them into the big games long enough to let them win their letters. But why not reward them properly for the work done this year, even though they have another year coming?

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

SINCE Carnegie Tech defeated Notre Dame the football world flocked to the Plaid banner and it appears very much as though Tech will receive a chance to float their football wares in the far South, an offer having been received to play Loyola at New Orleans in a post-season game. Loyola is one of the ranking teams of the South and last Saturday the New Orleans Loyola U. ran wild against Chicago Loyola.

THE troubles of Gene Tunney have commenced, the heavyweight champion and his sparring partner having been arrested at New York yesterday for having engaged in an unlicensed boxing bout. He must appear today to reply to the charge. Tunney's arrest resulted from a vaudeville performance in which he engaged in an exhibition bout. An inspector of the New York state boxing commission made the charge. Small potatoes!

AT THE end of six rounds of bitter slugging in Motor Square Garden last night Jack Dufalla, a steel worker of Braddock, received the decision over Raggs Madera, college boxer. It was a bout which satisfied the most bloodthirsty, and this must be going some, for some fans are so keen for blood that they would almost enjoy the sight of a cleaver being hurled through the air. Tommy Crowley defeated Jack McFarland on points. The latter pair are junior lightweights.

TRIS Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, has resigned his post and it is not yet known who will fill his shoes. Tris intended to resign his post last year, but he did not want to leave after the season closed with the Indians riding the sixth saddle. He was one of the world's best outfielders and in the minds of many, the best. He threw with unerring aim. Tris was bought by Cleveland in 1916 for $55,000 and during his reign landed a pennant for the American League team.

WASHINGTON High, Syracuse Cup winners, emblematic of the W. P. I. A. League title, has been challenged to a post-season game by the undefeated Gettysburg Academy team of Gettysburg. Four boys on the latter team are from western Pennsylvania and the challengers are willing to play in the Pittsburgh district. They are: Snyder of Greensburg, Gay of Greensburg, Wadsworth of Mt. Pleasant, and Morgan of Coraopolis. Officials of Washington High have not yet given an answer to the Gettysburg challenge.

Time was, a decade or two ago, when nearly all the great billiard professionals—the elder Schaefer, Slosson, Sutton and others who might be named—were men well along in years. Now Willie Hoppe, who is not quite 40, is the oldest of the balkline stars. Edouard Horemans, the Belgian, is 38; Young Jake Shaefer, 31; Roger Conti, 25, and Welker Cochran in his middle twenties.

BOWLING COLUMN

New Castle Works Duckpin League

Prior to the match games rolled in the New Castle Works Duck-pin league on Monday night the bowlers held a business session with Vice-President Harry T. Jones in charge. The vacancy caused by the resignation of E. Smith was filled by F. Atkins.

Following the meeting the Shipping Department took two out of three games from the Office Force, and the Tin House captured three straight from the Hot Mill team. E. O. Raney was high man for the first match with a mark of 232. Shiffet was high in the second match with a mark of 165.

Church Teams To Have Floor League

A meeting of the Church League floor managers was held Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A., the purpose being to decide the rules and dates for the games.

Four churches were represented. They were: First M. E., First Christian, Central Christian and Central Presbyterian. Walter Kirker, who is in charge of the league, states that two more teams can be taken care of, and any church which would like to enter may do so by getting in touch with him at the Y. This league is always a good one, and closely contended.

FAMILY PETITIONS COURT TO DECLARE SON LEGALLY DEAD

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 30.—Disappearing entirely in 1914, shortly after the World war began, John Ferdinand Sapper, a well-known man of Uniontown, is to be declared legally dead. Petition was filed by his half-brother, W. Frank Sapper, and their mother, Mrs. Lida Sapper Davis, that a $6,000 estate left by Frank D. Sapper, husband of Mrs. Lida Sapper, can be settled.

John Sapper left his home in Royal, near here, saying he was going to Pittsburgh or West Virginia to seek employment.

New Castle High Girls' Floor Team Practicing

By "BUGS" WALTHER

With the basketball season not many weeks away, the New Castle High girls are hard at work in preparation for the coming campaign. The girls have been working out daily for the past month and they will be in fine condition for the opening affair.

The team is coached again this year by Miss Ruth Boyd. Miss Boyd was at the helm in 1925-26 and turned in an enviable record with only mediocre material. With six girls left from the last year's squad on hand for positions this season it is expected that many keen fights for berths will take place within the next few weeks.

The six girls in mention are: Captain Ilona Patterson, Jenny Wygonowski, Gertrude Wolfe, Margaret Plattner, Elizabeth Young and Twila Kaufman. Of the newcomers reporting this year Miss Arabella Cobau, Miss Isabel Regna, Miss Anna Ponion and Helen Hart appear to have the call for the vacant places on the squad. It is the intention of Coach Boyd to have two complete teams all season, which means that a total of 12 girls will be carried throughout the campaign.

As the situation shapes up there are but three vacant posts to be filled this year by the wealth of material on hand, a center, side-center and forward. Three positions on the team are about decided upon, as follows: Captain Patterson at forward, Wygonowski and Wolfe at the guards.

Graduation last June depleted the squad somewhat, with the following girls passing to institutions of higher learning: Misses Mary and Sara Louden, Ruth Lewis and Pauline Wolfe. The Louden twins have entered Slippery Rock Normal and Miss Lewis is matriculating at Westminster.

The girls' team is managed this year by Miss Marion McNees. Games have been scheduled so far with Zelienople, Sharon and Beaver Falls.

Reports Steffen To Quit Coaching Job

Several Large Universities Are Angling For Game With Tech Team

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 30.—Echoes of Carnegie Tech's sensational drubbing of the "thundering herd" from Notre Dame came rumbling back to Pittsburgh today with reports that several large universities were angling for post-season games with the Tartans.

Prominent among those mentioned as having made formal requests for games was Loyola University, of New Orleans, one of the ranking teams in the south.

Meantime, however, the Carnegie Tech campus was agog with rumors eminating from Chicago that Walter M. Steffen, coach of the Tartan Clan, who is also a judge in Chicago superior court, contemplates abandoning his coaching career.

Reports said that Steffen found his judicial duties too exacting to make the regular week-end trip to Pittsburgh during the football season to whip his team into shape.

Police Capture Man And Wife As Station Robbers

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 30.—Arrested by state police here within an hour after they are alleged to have robbed a filling station proprietor at Elizabeth, Pa., D. A. Thoma, 35, and his young wife will be given a hearing today before a justice of the peace at Elizabeth.

Anthony Cavalier, 19, identified the couple as the robbers. They drove up to the filling station in a touring car, Cavalier said, and attempted to sell him some pictures.

The strangers then decided they needed gasoline and while Cavalier was filling their tank, Thoma, the youth declared, drew a gun and compelled him to turn over the contents of the cash drawer, about $12.

While making their get-away, Cavalier obtained the robbers' license number.

One hour and forty minutes is the average time required for a major league baseball game.

The basketball season of the Missouri Valley Conference colleges will start on January 7.

Gould Elected Maine Senator

Business Man To Succeed To Unexpired Term Of Late Senator Fernald

(International News Service)

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 30.—Maine has assured retention of republican control of the United States Senate.

This fact, political observers said, stood forth today as the result of the election of Arthur R. Gould, business man, of Presque Isle, a republican, to the United States Senate over Fulton J. Redman, democrat, a lawyer, of Ellsworth, by a majority of about 50,000 votes.

First a cigar salesman, then a potato farmer, a builder of railroads, a lumberman, a pioneer in the great north country of Aroostook—Maine's vast potato belt—Gould entered politics practically unknown, except to his friends and business associates. He was repudiated by the governor of Maine, a republican, because he and his friends were all-eged to have exceeded the legal campaign expenditure allowance—a question disapproved by a state probe but yet to come before Senator Reed's campaign fund investigators. He was denounced by the K. K. K. and it was stated that the klan had thrown its support to Redman.

But the seventy-year-old millionaire in spite of this opposition swept every county in the state. It was the deathknell of the klan as a political factor in Maine, said political experts.

Sesqui Enters Final Month

Directors Vote To Close Sesqui-Centennial At End Of December

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—The Sesqui-centennial exposition entered its final month today, the directors having voted to close the fair at the end of this year.

The proposal to keep the exposition open in 1927 was vetoed by the directors when it was learned that an additional expenditure of $6,500,000 would be required with the probability that the exposition might not be a success despite the huge outlay.

The admission fee was cut in half today for the remainder of the exposition. Dismantling will be in progress throughout the month.

Remember This Game? By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1926, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

You who were thrilled at the exciting finishes of the Harvard-Dartmouth, Navy-Colgate or Cornell-Dartmouth games of 1926, should not forget the famous Princeton-Chicago classic of four years ago which will go down in sport history as one of the most hair-raising football battles ever fought on any gridiron. To add to its flavor was the intersectional interest, and the fact that Chicago had beaten Princeton the year before on the Tigers' own field.

Here was the situation with 12 minutes of the final quarter to play: Chicago was leading, 18 to 7, and the ball was in Princeton's possession on her two-yard line. Everything looked like a Maroon victory. Here Cleaves dropped back as if to punt, but instead threw a long forward pass to Gorman, who ran to the 40-yard line. This daring play, even though it had no immediate results, as Princeton soon afterwards was forced to kick, was the real turning point of the game, and not only dumfounded the spectators, but the Chicago team as well.

Soon after, with the ball on Chicago's 42-yard line, a substitute center made a bad pass, which was grabbed by Gray of Princeton, who ran unmolested to a touchdown. Score: Chicago 18, Princeton 14. The Maroons received the kick-off and soon Old Nassau had the ball again deep in Chicago's territory, thanks to a poor punt. The winning touchdown was merely a matter of a Princeton pass, two penalties against Chicago and Crum's battering his way over the goal line. But now came the biggest thrill of all, and the keenest disappointment to the Chicago rooters.

With only a minute or so left to play Chicago cut loose with the neglected forward pass and soon had the ball on Princeton's one-yard line. With the frenzied crowd shrieking and screaming madly, "Hurry! Hurry!" or "Hold that line!" the Chicago quarterback called on John Thomas to buck the line, as he had done so successfully all through the first three quarters. Princeton held, Chicago lost the ball on downs with a foot to go, the Tigers kicked out of danger, and the pistol popped.

That was a thriller if there ever was one!

The Four Norsemen, what?

Fans Showing Wide-spread Attention In All-American

Flaherty Of Yale Named For Second Team Berth

By ED. FRITZ.

Players from Penn, Brown, Army, Ohio State, Navy, Michigan, Southern California, Minnesota, Iowa, Yale, Notre Dame, Stanford, New York U., Northwestern, and Washington & Jefferson have been picked for positions on the real American eleven in the poll that is being conducted by 500 clients of the Central Press Association, one of the 500 being The New Castle News.

Among the players mentioned for positions on the first team by the voters who have filled out blanks and forwarded them to The News are: Oosterban, Swan, Hess, Boeringer, Lassman, Vickhurst, Broada, Friedman, Karow, Baker, Amos, Nelson, Sturhahu, Sonsodine, Gray, Flanagan, Wilson, Thayer, Smith, Schmidt, Butler, Rodgers, Joesting, Kevorkian, while players who have not been assigned first team honors and rated as second team choices by the New Castle vote are:

Carey, Hanson, Kelly, Brown, Kassill, Richards, Shively, James, Stewart, Flaherty (of New Castle, guard, Yale), Flora, Slagle, Mishel, Menic, Yoder, Connaughton, Sprague, Towle, Harpster and Shaugnessy. Several of those selected by some voters for positions on the first team have been placed on the second team by other voters; hence the interest in the poll that is being conducted until the curtain of darkness descends December 4.

According to the lists returned to The New Castle News up to last night, or during the first day's poll, no member of the Carnegie Tech team was assigned a first team position. Wilson, (Sharon lad) who is known as Light Horse Harry of the Army team is well liked and Oosterban of Michigan holds a warm spot in the hearts of local fandom. However, this does not mean they have won their berth; decidedly not. It only goes to show that the poll is receiving widespread attention from the fans of New Castle and Lawrence county who should lose no opportunity to submit their first and second teams to The News. No person should submit two lists. That is why a close check is being kept on the voters names and address.

ALL-AMERICAN GRID CANDIDATES

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Nebraska University always produces a powerful grid team and this year's is a typical one. The team's victory over the undefeated New York University eleven in one of the season's intersectional features, was its crowning achievement. Capt. Louie Steiner, at tackle, has been one of the outsanding figures of the team. He is probably one of the best definsive tackles in the west, if not in the country. The New York team was able to score but one touchdown, due partly to Steiner's work, after ripping eastern lines wide open all season.

Michigan, with its two Bennys—Friendman and Oosterbaan, planned to run wild with the powerful Minnesota eleven in the final game of the Big Ten season the other day. But Capt. Wheeler's defensive play at end for the Minnesota eleven helped check their aerial attack. It was a long run on a fumble that gave Michigan its only score.

This is the second year that Wheeler has drawn all-western and all-American consideration because of his brilliant defensive play, as well as his work in receiving passes and at open field running.

Ask Protection For British And American Subjects

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The foreign community at Kiukiang has appealed for protection for 400 American and British citizens at the mountain resort of Kuling, whose safety is endangered in view of possible anti-foreign strikes, according to a dispatch from Shanghai today.

Another good test of blood pressure is to watch the unhurried workman whose wages you are paying.

SAME AUTO STOLEN FOR SECOND TIME

For the second time in the past few weeks, the sedan of Adolph Green, of Wallace avenue, was stolen, last night about nine o'clock, while parked in front of the Green residence. The police were notified as soon as the loss was noticed and a search throughout the city was made, while surrounding cities were notified to be on the lookout for the machine.

It was found later in the night in the vicinity of the Lincoln and Garfield school, where it had been abandoned by the thief, and returned to the home of the owner. A few weeks ago, the machine was stolen while parked near the plant of the Bright Bumper company. It was found at that time by the police.

DINNER STORIES

"Ah! What a peaceful, happy community this seems to be!" rhapsodically spake a guest.

"Eh-yah!" admitted the landlord of the tavern at Backwash. " 'Tis just at present. You see, the town marshal got run over by a joy rider the other day and had his leg broke and his back wrenched. And the only two lawyers in town had a fight lately and bunged each other up so bad that they are both confined to their beds."

Carrying his luggage and his golf clubs, he climbed into an ancient hack and bade the driver, who was an old negro man, take him to the local hotel. The negro eyed the queer-looking leather bag that his passenger carried with the peculiar-looking sticks in it. His curiosity got the best of him finally.

"Boss," he began, "please, suh, 'scuse me, but mout I ax you a question?"

"Go ahead and ask," said Mr. Jones.

"Wut kind of a lodge is you institutin'?"

"I can, no doubt, keep you alive for several years," said the specialist to the ailing financier, "but you'll require to have me in constant attendance, and — er — my fee—"

"I think I understand," interrupted the financier. "What you propose seems to be a refunding of my debt to nature at a higher rate of interest."

Hockey has supplanted lacrosse as the national game of Canada.

George Wright, who was captain, shortstop and manager of the champion "Providence" baseball team 50 years ago, on which A. G. Spalding also played, will celebrate his 80th birthday anniversary in January. Mr. Wright, who is the head of a prominent sporting goods house in Boston, attributes his longevity and general health to his indulugence in the game of golf.

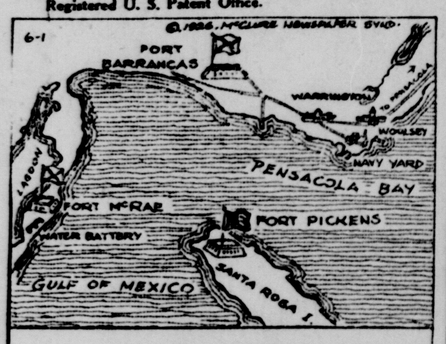
Fort Pickens.



FORT PICKENS, AN IMPORTANT U. S. FORTIFICATION IN PENSACOLA BAY, FLORIDA, WAS SAVED TO THE UNION BY THE FORESIGHT AND DETERMINATION OF LIEUTENANT ADAM SLEMMER. WHEN FLORIDA SECEDED, SECESSIONIST STATE TROOPS SEIZED THE NAVY YARD AT PENSACOLA.

HAVING BUT A HANDFUL OF FEDERAL SOLDIERS AT HIS COMMAND, SLEMMER ABANDONED FORT BARRANCAS ON THE MAINLAND, WHICH WAS PROMPTLY OCCUPIED BY THE STATE TROOPS, AND CONCENTRATED HIS LITTLE FORCE IN FORT PICKENS, ON SANTA ROSA ISLAND. HE REFUSED TO SURRENDER THE FORT AND HELD IT FROM JANUARY, 1861, UNTIL APRIL, WHEN COL. HARVEY BROWN, WITH RE-ENFORCEMENTS, WAS SENT TO RELIEVE HIM.

COL. BROWN'S RELIEF EXPEDITION WAS THE RESULT OF THE GOVERNMENT'S DECISION TO STRENGTHEN AND HOLD FORT PICKENS. BY THE 25TH OF APRIL THE GARRISON HAD BEEN INCREASED TO NEARLY 900 MEN, AND IN JUNE WAS FURTHER STRENGTHENED BY THE ARRIVAL OF THE BILLY WILSON ZOUAVES, A REGIMENT RECRUITED FROM THE SLUMS OF NEW YORK CITY.

NO IMPORTANT ACTION OCCURRED UNTIL OCT. 8, 1861, WHEN CONFEDERATES FROM THE MAINLAND UNDER GENERALS RUGGLES AND ANDERSON MADE A DARING NIGHT ATTACK UPON THE ISLAND. AFTER A SHARP FIGHT THEY SUCCEEDED IN BURNING THE CAMP OF THE ZOUAVES, BUT WERE FORCED TO RETREAT TO THEIR BOATS.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Gains and losses in the industrial stocks were evenly distributed in the early trading in the stock market today. Rallies in the speculative leaders at the opening of the market invited further short selling by the professionals, who were fortified behind a 5¼ per cent call loan renewal rate and a symposium on general business conditions by industrial leaders which indicated a decline in the volume of 1927 national business.

Selling ex-dividend 1¾ per cent, U. S. Steel declined to 146 against yesterday's high level of 150¾, while Baldwin at 153½ showed a loss of 6 points and General Motors sold heavily around 138. This display of weakness by the market leaders encouraged the bears to redouble their efforts for lower prices, since the path of least resistance was downward.

As a rule the industrial stocks were well bought a point or two below the previous close, and efforts to unsettle the market were unsuccessful. Commodity markets were quiet and price changes narrow.

SEARCH WISCONSIN FOR MISSING YOUTH

and Young Olson had been sweethearts nearly two years. Although having the same name, they were not related.

A posse of nearly 1000 aroused citizens is dragging the Kickapoo river and searching the Kickapoo valley for the body of the girl. Other posses, headed by deputy sheriffs, are scouring the woods for Young Olson.

Youth Disappears Also

The girl was last seen September 9, when she left home after confessing to her father indiscretions of her love.

After two week's absence Young Olson returned to college. When the girl did not return home, her father became worried and went to see Young Olson. He plead with the youth to bring his daughter back. Next day Olson disappeared.

The youth wrote a note to his brother, Orvid, asking him to "Live down the shame I have left." And warning that he would "Never be captured alive."

Many New Toys Found This Year In Local Toylands

Toys never grow old; they are always new to the children, and as Santa Claus and Christmas draw nigh thousands of persons, 99 of every 100 being children, crowd local stores and drink in the sights that come only once a year.

And pursuant to the slogan of "Ride Early, Shop Early and Mail Early", toys are going fast, gifts for men, women and children here and elsewhere are being snapped up by the buyers, which means that mother and sister have started their Christmas shopping pilgrimage.

There are new toys in the market; not so many, but enough to interest the parents who annually make the round to "see what's new". An old sage once remarked: "There's nothing new under the sun", but the statement does not apply to Christmas toys, because there are some new toys.

For instance, the auto aeroplane attracts the attention of the boy who once liked a kiddie kar. The red-headed twins, with the miniature stork fastened to the top of the doll baby carriage, is new. Then there are separate dolls, all with baby faces and red hair.

Somehow or other the doll makers this season have apparently catered to red hair, why no one as yet has explained. It may be that the reporter did not happen to get to a counter where the little baby faces had dark hair but nevertheless all of the dolls this year are cuter than ever.

But auto aeroplanes for the boys and dolls for the girls are not the only new things on the market. The reporter will say not. A dozen or more different contrivances have been arranged to gladden the hearts of the youngsters when they prance from bed to a Christmas tree.

Felix the cat is with us again; likewise the clown who jiggles to and fro astride a stick. The baseball game which has a pitcher, a ball catcher and everything but an umpire will satisfy the older lad while fire engines with extension ladders, miniature auto cars can be seen every store.

Trunks, miniature of course, for the little girls; cook stoves, dish sets, "ironing board" and flat iron, monkeys which dance when a string is pulled; bears that walk when a spring is wound, dogs that bark when a rubber bulb is pressed are a few more of the things that attract.

Erector sets for the boy mechanically inclined, moving picture machines for the lad who likes the roving redskins and the cowboy astride a bucking broncho, blocks for the little chap attending kindergarten and dress-making outfits for little girls with doll babies can be had.

There are all kinds of toys and gifts that can be purchased. To attempt to name them would require columns of space. Readers can visit the stores and see the long rows of toys that have been placed for sale and by shopping early gladden little hearts Christmas morning.

THE NEW CASTLE NEWS DISPLAY ADS ARE READ BY 90,000 DAILY

STATISTICS show that of all the failures in the United States last year, eighty-five per cent did not advertise. The answer is obvious. Every successful merchant and manufacturer advertises. And that is one of the reasons for success. For local advertising The News, is the best medium. It goes into the homes of all classes—homes that constitute the buyers you wish to reach.

At the services this evening the devotionals will be led by Esther Warner. The topic will be, "Looking Life in the Face." A reading will be given by Camella Smith and a piano solo by Violet Shuler. The address of the evening will be made by Rev. English.

NAME CAST FOR NEW SCHOOL PLAY

Senior High School Students Prepare For Presentation On December 8-9

Senior high school is a community in itself, with all the politics, tensions, triumphs and sober effort which characterize the larger community life in which the students will soon play their part.

They work—oh, yes! the teachers are always there to remind them that there will be no passing marks and no ultimate high school diploma without consistent effort on their part; and most of them are interested in their tasks just as the skilled workman or the painstaking artist prides himself on a creditable achievement.

However, there are certain high spots in school life, aside from the routine of the classroom, which cast a glamour over school days that never quite fades, that increases rather as the years advance. Such are the contests on the athletic field, the senior-sophomore reception, the playing of a famous overture by the school orchestra and the school play.

As the time approaches for the first public performance by the dramatic students speculation is rife as to the personnel of the cast. Miss Hartsuff announces today the players who will appear in "A Lucky Break" to be given in senior high school auditorium December 8 and 9. The cast is one of the largest yet seen in a high school play and every one will find a favorite.

Dorothy Jean Wallace and Harriet Martin as charming young ladies, Eleanore Hutchinson and Barbara Bratschie as dignified matrons, Virginia Recher as comedienne, Allan Haid and George Ruggy as rural wiseacres, Norman Cotton and Charles Knobloch as business men, Bob Turner as the impecunious artist, with Rosalind Ehrlich, George Reynolds, Lucille Emery, Margaret Gillespie and Betty Houston in minor comedy parts insure an evening of hilarious fun. Add to these Raymond Toler, Mac Chambers, George Trainor, Frances Beadel, Jim Blanning, Hazel Bergland, Raymond John, Harriet Beadel, Bill Kirk, Evelyn Thayer, Tom Dickey, Sara Cobau, Kenneth McLure, Josephine Sowersby, Jack Lampe, Audrey Baker, Lida Fischler, Norman Lockhart, Mary Whalen and Stanton Wettich as guests at the hotel which is the scene of numerous misunderstandings, and you have the entire cast of "A Lucky Break".

Charge Bankers With Big Plot To Smuggle Liquor

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Lewis H. Rothchild, vice president of the Chelsea Exchange bank of New York, and two of his associates will be placed under arrest today as the prime figures in a gigantic plot to smuggle liquor into the United States.

Assistant United States Attorney Hubert C. Thomson, Deputy Surveyor Thomas P. Finnegan and Customs Agent Owen P. McKenna arrived here from Boston early with warrants for Rothchild and Harold Smythe, secretary to Rothchild, and James V. Boice, assistant cashier of the Chelsea bank.

Hubert said he would demand immediate extradition of the three to Boston to stand trial with 38 others indicted by the government in the alleged liquor conspiracy.
